SMILING THROUGH GRIEF.

In Spite of the Worries Which All Women Have, They Appear Well and Happy—How to Make This Apparent Happiness Real.

"Yes," said an eminent physician recently, "I do not think I exaggerate when I say that one-half of the suffering and sickness which exists among women might and should be avoided.

"How? Listen and I will tell you. Pains and weakness and the little cares, which no man other than a physician suspects, frequently combine to make women more or less miserable. Yet they come up smiling nearly always, hiding beneath their seeming happiness an infinity of mental and physical torture. This is all wrong. Woman was born to brightness and happiness; she needs strength to resist many trials. Her body, her mind and all her faculties and functions must be put into a healthy condition or she cannot secure strength; and where nature fails she must be assisted. Here is where stimulants prove so valuable."

"Yes, I mean spirits, but not the spirits of the saloon; and while I recommend whiskey as the best and most useful of spirits, I am always most careful to impress upon my patients the necessity of obtaining it absolutely pure, as impure whiskey is worse than useless." It has been agreed by the leading scientists and physicians of the day that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is absolutely pure. The proper use of it will strengthen the nerves, blood and body. It is not a beverage, but is designed for medicinal use. It stimulates all the faculties of the body and mind, adds energy and strength and builds up waste tissue. It may be obtained from your druggist or grocer. In justice to yourself, see that you obtain the genuine Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, and be not be satisfied with any substitute which may be offered as just as good.

WIFE OR WIDOW, WHICH?

Remarkable Case in the Common Pleas Court.

Strange Disappearance of Alonzo Bellows and the Peculiar Results—The Courts Have a Knotty Question to Unravel.

A case of somewhat remarkable interest will come up in common pleas court this week. The papers have already been prepared, and they will be filed within a day or two.

Last September, Alonzo Bellows, treasurer of Sylvania township, left home with the intention of drawing certain money from the bank. This was the last ever heard of him. It turned out that he owed the township a considerable sum of money, and the township trustees promptly attached his property.

Now comes his wife, who says that she does not know whether her husband is alive or not. If he is dead she is entitled as his widow to a certain considerable share of the property. If he is alive, then she is entitled also to a share, but much smaller.

Mrs. Bellows believes her husband is dead. He left home in company with the postmaster of Sylvania, saying when he left that he would return for supper. Instead of that he failed to show up at all, and his companion appeared at the Bellows residence at 5 o'clock the next morning. He was unable to say where he had left Bellows or had last seen him.

Mrs. Bellows says he had no debts that he was not able to pay, and she believes her husband met with foul play in Toledo.

It will be the duty of the court to decide whether she is a wife or a widow.

The case is one of the most peculiar that has ever come before the courts, and the result will be watched with much interest.

EMBEZZLEMENT.

Prominent Official Defaulter for a Large Amount.

Warrant Issued for His Arrest—District Attorney Brinsmade and Special Pension Inspector in Consultation.

This morning United States District Attorney Brinsmade, Special Pension Inspector Roemer and United States Commissioner Hall were in consultation in the district attorney's office for several hours in a case that will cause, when the particulars are known, considerable surprise, and perhaps regret.

A prominent official, living not a thousand miles from Toledo, is charged with embezzling a large sum of money through a certain pension agency. After hearing the evidence it was decided to issue a warrant for his arrest, and he will have a hearing Thursday afternoon.

For obvious reasons the name is suppressed until the arrest has been made.

Col. Brinsmade was very reticent when approached by a Bee this noon.

"I cannot tell you anything more about it," he said, "than that we have decided to make the arrest, and the party will have a hearing Thursday."

The man is well known and well-to-do. It is probable that the case will be hotly contested from the word go.

Col. Brinsmade returned this afternoon to Cleveland, where the United States district court is now in session.

THE LAST SPIKE DRIVEN.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 13.—The last spike on the Seattle & Montana railroad was driven yesterday. Seattle & Montana is 87 1-2 miles in length and runs from this city to Jannis Prairie, Skagi county, where it is met by Fair Haven & Southern which runs direct to New Westminster, B. C. Both roads are property of the Great Northern.

GEN. AGNUS GIVES A DINNER.

Baltimore, Oct. 13.—Gen. Felix Agnus of the American gave a dinner in honor of Secretary Foster and Secretary Rusk, of Washington, and Mr. W. J. Arkell, Mr. Bernard Gilman and Mr. John A. Sleicher, of New York, last night. Among those present were Mayor Davidson, Collector Marine, Mr. Brewer, editor of the News, and other gentlemen of Baltimore.

BONDS REDEEMED.

Washington, Oct. 13.—The amount of 4 1-2 per cent. bonds redeemed yesterday was $47,350, making the total redemptions to date $19,734,800, and leaving outstanding $5,769,900.

ITS DAY HAS GONE.

The House of Lords is no Longer of Any Use.

Liberals Will Move to Have It Abolished.

Non-Attendance of Members the Chief Objection.

Austrian Police Have Another Dynamiter.

More Armenian Outrages Reported—Sensation Concerning the Paris Fund—Russian Jews Praying for Relief from Persecution.

London, Oct. 13.—The Austrian police believe that they have captured in the man Steinert, of Cracow, Austrian Poland, a dynamite fiend who works destruction merely for the pleasure of it.

It is thought that, besides the Rosenthal explosion, Steinart was also guilty of attempting to blow up the statue of St. John of Nephumuk, the patron saint of Bohemia, when the feast of the saint was being celebrated in Reichenberg, and that, when the feast of the nativity of the virgin was being celebrated, he made a similar attempt to blow up the Marion chapel in the suburb of Maffersdorf.

The explosion at Rosenthal is not now supposed to have had for its object any injury to the emperor, but to be like the other deeds, a senseless effort to create excitement and destroy property.

There was an undoubted intention to ruin the bridge, and thereby arouse a sensation in relation to the delay of the emperor's train; but there is not the slightest evidence of a purpose to injure the emperor.

Praying for Relief.

If prayer could have any influence on the czar he would be deeply moved by the supplications that went up yesterday from every Jewish synagogue in Great Britain. The prayer had been specially prepared for the synagogues by the chief rabbi. Apart from the prayer it is said the Jews spent the day in fasting and humiliation for their suffering brethren.

The House of Lords.

It is reported that a meeting of several of the more prominent members of the peerage, irrespective of the partisan attachments, will shortly be held to take into consideration the declaration of the liberals at New Castle in favor of abolishing the house of lords.

None of the peers suppose that Mr. Gladstone would have any thing to do with the movement for the abolition of the upper house, but it is apprehended that, in regard to this and other matters the liberal party has got beyond his control. The older peers, and some of the younger, clearly see the evils that have threatened to sap the influence of the house of lords, and especially the absenteeism which is now the rule.

But one of the young peers, an earl, is quoted as giving an opinion that, as between compulsory attendance and the abolition of the house, most of the lords would prefer to accept abolition.

The Kaiser and the Jews.

A Berlin dispatch says that the kaiser has expressed himself as deeply offended by the anti-Jewish agitation which the bestowal of an order on a Jew living in Bielfeld has aroused. In reply to the representations sent through Chancellor Caprivi that the man had a bad character, the kaiser has replied briefly and pointedly rebuking the anti-Jewish prejudice that promoted the action.

More Outrages.

From Constantinople comes an account of more outrages on the Christian Armenians. The Turks who recently carried off a number of Armenian maidens were permitted by the authorities to retain them, notwithstanding the protests of their parents, on the ground that the girls had become converted to Mahomedanism.

As no one had a chance to see the girls and ascertain whether the alleged conversion had any basis of truth, the decision was so manifestly unjust that it created great alarm throughout Armenia.

That the alarm was justified is proven by the fact that the abduction and alleged conversion of American girls is now becoming an established Turkey industry.

The Paris Fund.

The Daily Telegraph this morning publishes a dispatch from its correspondent at Cork which says that something of a panic has been caused in nationalist circles here by a report that under French law Mrs. Charles Stewart Parnell and John Howard Parnell are heirs of the Paris fund of 40,000 pounds, which was lodged in Paris in the joint names of Mr. McCarthy and Mr. Parnell. There is no doubt that Mrs. Parnell will at once place her share in the hands of those who stood by her late husband, which will quickly place them in a financial position to enable them to show a good deal of fight.

ESCAPED FROM JAIL.

Five Men Saw Themselves Out of Prison.

Greenville, Oct. 13.—This city last evening had a sensation that caused great excitement. At about 7:45 o'clock five prisoners escaped from jail by sawng off the bars and dropping down from a south window by means of bed clothing tied together. They were: Christ Oelshlager, who brutally killed his mother-in-law last January and was convicted of murder in the first degree but was in jail awaiting a new trial on error; King and Brown of Union City, committed for rape, and Hall Robinson and Henry Reinier, for burglary. All escaped through the same hole

OPPOSED TO HONEST ELECTION.

Delaware, Oct. 13.—Considerable kicking is done by some republicans here against the Australian ballot system to be used this fall, and in one ward it has gone so far that a few have embodied their grievances in a petition aganst the new law.

DUNCAN DOW FOR JUDGE.

Marysville, Oct. 13.—Hon. Duncan Dow of Bellefontaine, author of the Dow local option law, was nominated by the republican judicial convention of the third subdivision of the Tenth judicial district, comprising Union and Logan counties.

THE RAILROAD SETTLES.

Elyria, Oct. 13.—The Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway company have settled with Mrs. John J. Bowerfind and Mrs. Charles Hamil, of this place, whose husbands were killed in the Kipton wreck, for $7,500.

RICH VEIN OF ZINC.

Roanoke, Va., Oct. 13.—Considerable interest is excited here by the discovery of a large vein of zinc glance in the mines at Bonsacks. The vein was found in the 90-foot level, and is nine feet wide, thirty feet deep and extends indefinitely in line with the main ore body.

WILL QUIT NATURAL GAS.

Too Much of a Luxury for Springfield People.

Springfield, Oct. 13.—The mass meeting of citizens held to discuss the natural gas situation was attended by nearly 1,000 representative citizens, and a united stand was taken against submitting to any further outrages at the hands of the natural gas company.

While no action was taken the agreement was implied that the citizens would quit natural gas rather than submit to any advance in price. The information was adduced that the Brier legions own the majority of stock in the Springfield as well as other local companies, and thus local companies are at the mercy of the monopoly.

HAVE A CLUE.

Buffalo, Oct. 13.—Supt. White of the American Express company stated positively to-day that Messenger Moore is not suspected of the recent robbery near Utica, and is not under surveillance.

"We have got a pretty good clue to the robber," said Mr. White, and we are going to get him. It may take time, but we will run him down if we have to follow him to kingdom come. We followed that Canadian robber for three years, but we got him at last. No, I will not tell the amount stolen. We are paying up the losses and will have them all adjusted soon."

HOEY REMOVED.

New York, Oct. 13.—John Hoey, president of the Adams Express company, was yesterday deprived of his position as president and trustee by the unanimous vote of the full board of managers. Mr. Hoey was charged with malfeasance in office. Clapp Spooner, the vice president of the company, tendered his resignation immediately after the board voted for the expulsion of the president and the resignation was accepted. The salary was $30,000 per annum.

ORGANIZED ROBBERS IN ROME.

Rome, Oct. 13.—An extensive gang of robbers has been discovered here and broken up. Seventy-five arrests all told were made. Goldsmiths, money changers, and a number of reputable employes are implicated. Twenty-five robberies were committed by members of the gang, so far as is known, the plunder amounting in all to £25,000.

BOUND HIM OVER.

Wapakoneta, Oct. 13.—Charles Esser was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Mollie Newmeier charging him with being the father of her unborn babe.

OTTAWA COUNTY POLITICS

Treachery Among the Alliance Candidates.

They Talk Farmer and Will Vote McKinley.

The Democrats are Posted as to Their Schemes and Will Spoil Them at the Polls on November Third.

Elmore, Oct. 13.—(Special)—Politics in Ottawa county is generally one-sided, the democratic majority being so large and so well established as to render all attempts to elect anybody but a democrat to office abortive.

This year, however, unless democrats keep their eyes open, republicans will show them a trick, "with a hole in it," as the old expression goes.

The Patrons of Industry have a large membership in this county and it is very apparent that republicans are taking advantage of the fact that the major portion of the members of this organization are democrats, and will make a desperate attempt to reduce the democratic majority. Their scheme is nothing more nor less than a plan to induce democratic alliance men to vote for Seitz, while republicans will talk for Seitz, but when it comes to the pinch, vote for McKinley and the remainder of the republican ticket.

There is abundant evidence of the existence of this plan, and democrats who belong to the alliance ought to be able to discern the real state of affairs and the hypocrisy of their republican brethren.

The cat was first let out of the bag in this place by G. W. Boggs, the alliance candidate for infirmary director. Boggs was always a republican, and is yet, for that matter. A few days after Malcolm Kelley was nominated by the republicans for common pleas judge he approached the latter, who was transacting some business in the Elmore bank, and congratulated him on his nomination.

"I thank you very much," said Mr. Kelley; "but as you are an alliance man your well wishes are empty."

"Oh! I guess not. I am an alliance man till it comes to voting; then I am a republican. After I vote I can be an alliance man again if I wish."

This statement was made in the presence of Mr. Charles Kolbe and will be vouched for by him. Boggs is not the only alliance man in Ottawa county who, as a republican, is masquerading in the alliance garb for the purpose of deceiving democrats and estranging them from their party and ticket.

In no county in northwestern Ohio is the alliance so strong as in Ottawa county. The organization is really the Patrons of Industry, but its members are pledged to support Seitz, and for brevity it will be called the alliance. It has in this county 17 sub-alliances, with an average membership of about 75 to the branch. Some of the members are women, so that the voting strength is placed at about 1,000. As to how they intend to vote, the evidence of Mr. R. L. Howard, a resident of this township (Harris), is adduced.

"Our voting strength in the county," said Mr. Howard to the Bee, "is not far from 1,000, and, so far as I know, these voters will stick to the party ticket, both county and state, although something may happen to change the aspect as it now appears."

"Will the members of the alliance in Ottawa county all vote for Seitz?"

"That I cannot say, but I presume there are many who will not."

"Do you know of any who intend voting for McKinley?"

"I suppose there are men in our ranks who will vote for McKinley, and some who will vote for Campbell."

The real fact is that the alliance men will split their vote, and unless the democrats are very vigilant they will get the worst of it.

Leading republicans here have boasted that the alliance vote in Ottawa county would hurt somebody, but as the scheme is now being exposed, it is to be hoped that democrats will not go off after strange gods, while republicans stick to their ticket.

This place is the home of Jim Luckey, as nice and agreeable a man personally as one would care to meet, but generally a very aggressive and partisan republican. Mr. Luckey is not, however, rending his nether garment for the cause of republicanism this year. He is doing what he can though against his friend (?) John Sherman, who has twice beaten him out of the appointment for collector of customs in this district.

Luckey has been unfortunate in residing in so strong a democratic county as Ottawa, and perhaps this fact has been against him more than any other.

He was first a candidate for the place when Gen. Hayes was elected to the presidency in 1877. Hayes and Mr. Luckey's father, A. W. Luckey, were then associated together in business at Fremont, and were personally the best of friends.

Jim Luckey came out for the place, and his candidacy was viewed with favor by President Hayes. Sherman however was secretary of the treasury then and did not like the idea of bestowing so valuable an office upon a republican who lived in a democratic county. So Luckey was not appointed.

This act of Sherman's rankled in Luckey's bosom for years, and when he went as a delegate to the Chicago convention in '88, the opportunity arose for revenge. Luckey was pledged to support Sherman, but in a short time bolted him and voted after that for Harrison until he was nominated.

When Harrison was elected everybody supposed that Luckey would get whatever he desired of the administration, and when he announced himself as a candidate for the custom's collectorship, it was conceded by many that he would be successful.

John Sherman was there, however, to take a hand in the dispensing of the federal patronage in Ohio, and the senator never forgives treachery. He remembered Luckey's action at Chicago, and he evened matters up by turning the Elmore man down and appointing Austin.

Luckey was so certain of receiving the appointment that he had his arrangements partially made for his moving to Toledo, and the disappointment was severely felt.

Luckey has always been a valuable republican worker, and deserved better than a stone at the hands of his party, but his great mistake was made when he antagonized Sherman at Chicago.

His influence here, owing to the political make-up of the county, is rather limited, but whenever and wherever he can get a chance to shy a stone at Sherman he can be depended on to do it, and he cannot well be blamed, either.

Elmore democrats are confident of victory in Ohio this year, and think that notwithstanding the republican alliance game, the usual democratic majority, with an increase, will be rolled up.

Mr. Chas. Kolbe, of the Elmore bank, said:

"Democrats in Ottawa county are a unit for the ticket and will work faithfully for its election. I am satisfied that republican alliance men will not vote the people's party ticket, and think our fellows ought to see their scheme. Gov. Campbell will get the full vote of the party and some additional help from republican farmers who will not vote for McKinley and his high tariff associates."

"How many votes do you believe John Seitz will get in Ottawa county?"

"If democrats who belong to the Patrons of Industry get on to the republican scheme, I do not think Seitz will get 100 votes in the county. Curtis, the people's party candidate for representative, will get a large vote but not large enough to materially affect the result. Old democratic Ottawa may be depended on, I think, to turn out her usual big democratic majority."

Mr. Puffenbaugh, a well-known democratic leader, said:

"Ottawa county is all right, and if other counties do as well as she will, there need be no fears of the result."

Mr. Jacob Latche, another prominent democrat, is of the opinion that there will be no trouble about the usual democratic majority.

"Democrats in Ottawa county generally stick to the text," said he. "This year above all others it is important that they do so. Gov. Campbell will have the united support of democrats, and will unquestionably be elected."

Mr. G. W. Canneff, the principal jeweler of the place, said:

"I do not get around much, but from what I can learn I judge democrats are all in line for victory this fall. Taxation ought to be lower, and the election of McKinley will not do much in that direction."

Elmore is now in the midst of a splendid improvement. The main street is being paved with firebrick at a cost of $5,200, and will be a great aid to the town when completed. Business is fairly good, and merchants have nothing to complain of.

THE WAR WAXETH HOT.

Sherman and Foraker Forces Still Far Apart.

Foraker at the Head in the Matter of Nominations.

McKinley Begins to Fear That He Will be Entirely Lost Sight of in the Scramble for Senatorial Honors.

Columbus, O., Oct. 13.—(Special)—The nominations for both branches of the legislature of all parties is at hand.

An examination of the list of republican nominees develops the fact that ex-Gov. Foraker has captured a majority, and it is now evident that Senator Sherman and Secretary Foster have formed a combination, the outcome of which will be a political fight for ascendancy in Ohio unparalleled, with Foraker, Squire, Griffin and the notorious Cox on the one side, against Foster, Sherman, Grosvenor and the better element of the republican party on the other.

It is the opinion of the knowing ones that the Foster-Sherman combination will knock the persimmons, as they have more boodle, and, in the event of a division in the caucus, it is said that Foster will capture several Foraker men, enabling him to hold the balance of power, to which can be added the Sherman forces, which will undoubtedly elect Foster to the United States senate instead of Foraker, should the legislature be republican.

Sherman intends to see that all the candidates for the legislature who favor him are elected, while those favoring Foraker are defeated, so that he can say to the republicans of Ohio:

"I elected all of my candidates, but the gang failed to do their duty in the interest of the party," and at the same time weaken McKinley before the people.

The national banks of this state have become the recepticles for boodle from the big corporations of the east to assist McKinley and Sherman, while Tom Platt and his machine of New York would like to see Foraker to the front, as it is their intention to put him on as the tail to the Harrison kite in the campaign of 1892.

By this it is meant that the boys will hurrah for Harrison and Foraker better than for Harrison and Morton, and by the way it is said that Morton will not accept a renomination for the second place.

The Sherman men on the state committee are the shrewdest political workers in the republican party and their every aim will be to keep John on top.

All the democrats have to do is to go to the polls and vote and both branches of the legislature and the state ticket will be triumphantly elected.

The greatest impediment in the pathway of the republicans outside of the tariff is the Australian ballot law, which was made to permit the honest voter to vote as his conscience dictated without any interference from bosses or corporations.

CENSUS BULLETIN.

Washington, Oct. 13.—A bulletin issued by the census office to-day on live stock on ranges shows that in June, 1890, there were upon the ranges 517,128 horses, 5,433 mules, 14,109 asses or burros, 6,828,182 cattle, 6,676,902 sheep, and 17,276 swine, with sales of horses in 1889 amounting to $1,418,205; of cattle, $17,913,712; of sheep, $2,609,683, and of swine, $27,132. The total number of men reported upon ranges in care of this stock is 15,390.

PATTISON IS ON DECK.

Scathing Message to the Special Session.

Corruption of Big State Officials Exposed.

The Charges Against McCamant and Boyer Plainly Made and Their Impeachment Demanded.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 13.—Gov. Pattison, in his message to the extra session of the senate, which met at noon to-day, says:

Gentlemen—By virtue of the authority vested in me by the constitution, I have convened you in extraordinary session by proclamation for the transaction of executive business.

"In my judgment, conditions exist in the commonwealth to warrant and require the exercise of the power.

"The constitution provides that all officers elected by the people, other than some especially excepted, shall be removed by the governor for reasonable cause, after due notice and full hearing, on the advice of two-thirds of the senate.

"Having convened you in order to give you an opportunity to take appropriate action, under your constitutional powers, with relation to the alleged misconduct of the heads of two departments of the state government, as well as other elective officers, I deem it my duty to briefly review the course of events which have led to the call for this session of the senate and to refer you to such sources as I know of for further information."

The governor then reviews the arrest and conviction of Philadelphia's city and county treasurer, John Bardsley, for the unlawful use of city and state funds and says that in a preliminary hearing before two judges of the courts of Philadelphia, conducted by the district attorney of that county, the aforesaid John Bardsley refused to testify as to his relations with the state officials whose duty it was to require from him an accounting for and payment of the money collected by him for the commonwealth, whereupon it was held by the court and the district attorney that no warrant for the arrest of state officials could under the circumstances properly issue.

"A joint committee of the two branches of the legislature, appointed January 19, 1891, authorized to inquire into the administration of the offices of the auditor general and state treasurer, and instructed to report to the executive at the earliest time possible, has held sessions from time to time since the adjournment of the legislature and the evidence which it has taken will be accessible to you, I assume.

"Hon. George S. Graham, district attorney of Philadelphia county, and Hon. E. S. Stuart, mayor of Philadelphia; Francis B. Reeves, chairman of the commission appointed by the executive of the commonwealth, and Mr. Wm. Van Osten, chairman of the committee of councils, have freely offered to furnish all the evidence in their possesion bearing on the subject of the present inquiry.

"From these various sourses of information it appears to be the undisputed fact, that during most of his official term John Bardsley was permitted to retain and to use a very large amount of money collected for and payable into the state treasury, for which he neither made nor was never called upon and required to make the account directed by law. For the collection of moneys so retained by him no such legal steps were ever taken as are mandatory upon the state treasurer and auditor general; and he is shown to have embezzled them to the amount of more than a million and a quarter of dollars.

"The stubs of his check book and the entries upon his private memoranda, made at the time, show that he paid to a clerk of the auditor general's office a one-half share of moneys criminally received by him from the magistrates of Philadelphia in whose hands he placed the suits for the collection of delinquent mercantile taxes.

"There is memoranda to show that Bardsley regularly received large sums of money from the publishers of newspapers which obtained the advertisement of the mercantile appraiser's lists.

"It is admitted by some of the publishers that they paid these moneys to a clerk in the office of Auditor General Thomas McCamant, and the books of Bardsley indicate that he divided the bribes thus received with the auditor general, or some as yet undiscovered person of the same initials.

"The auditor general has denied under oath that he received any share of these moneys and his clerk is dead.

"Among the books and papers of John Bardsley appear evidence and memoranda made by him to the effect that on certain dates he received large sums for interest from banks, depositories and individuals to whom he had loaned the funds of the state, which he was permitted to retain, or were transferred to him by the consent and connivance of State Treasurer Henry K. Boyer, Cashier Wm. Livsey and Auditor General McCamant.

"These same memoranda and checkbooks show payments by Bardsley of money to Wm. Livsey, cashier of the state treasurer, and presumably to Auditor General McCamant, from time to time during the period that he was permitted by these officials to retain enormous amounts of state moneys.

"It also appears that the auditor general and state treasurer at different times, and on dates quickly following Bardsley's receipts of interest, wrote Bardsley letters acknowledging favors received."

The governor mentions several other cases where it appears as though Auditor General McCamant, State Treasurer Boyer and Cashier Livsey had connived with Bardsley to defraud the state out of large sums of money, and closes by saying:

"I submit this summary of the facts touching the administration of these two departments, admitted and testified to by their chief officers before a joint committee of the legislature, in order that the senate may determine the action appropriate in the premises.

"I regret the necessity which has arisen to summon you from your homes and accustomed avocations to this extraordinary session. I have awaited the resort to, and the exhaustion, of the processes of the criminal laws. Their frustration has only intensified the righteous demand of the people that their servants, sworn to obey and enforce the laws, and to protect and defend the nterests of the commonwealth, shall answer for neglect of duty or complicity in crime.

"The responsibility of determining whether a reasonable cause exists for the removal of them rests with you. The public expects that it will be met and discharged without regard to partisan advantage or detriment, and with a single concern for the good name and honor of the commonwealth.

"I invoke for your session that deliberation of counsel, joined with prompt dispatch of public business, which every requirement of the occasion demands."

BURNED AT SEA.

An Unknown Vessel Supposed to Have Been Destroyed.

Montreal, Oct. 13.—A dispatch from Cape Ray, Anticosti, says a large fire was seen at sea Saturday night. It appeared to be a vessel burning, and, as several steamers bound for Montreal, are now in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, considerable anxiety is felt.

A RAILROADER'S LIFE.

Filled With Constant Danger—The Experience of Mr. G. R. Updyke and His Statemen- of His Rescue.

Every business in life has its accompanying dangers, but from the numerous accidents in which both life and limb are lost in would seem that railroading is the most hazardous. Not only are those thus engaged subject to accidental dangers but their work, exposed as they are to all kinds of weather, renders them more liable to disease, especially catarrhal affections.

Mr. G. R. Updyke, yard-conductor of the Pennsylvania lines in Toledo, residing at 2101 Erie street, in speaking of his many troubles said:

Mr. G. R. Updyke, 2101 Erie street, Toledo.

"I have suffered most miserably for five years. I had occasional violent headaches. My eyes were weak and watery and my nose was continually stopped up. This was due somewhat to the accumulation of mucus, more especially to a number of

Nasal Polypii

"that filled both nostrils. I had to continually hawk and spit. I felt tired in the morning. I had occasional stabbing, at other times dull, pains about the region of the heart.

"I could scarcely breath at times, but after taking treatment of Drs. Copeland and Buffett, who immediately removed the polypii without the slightest pain or loss of blood, my breathing at once became much improved. My pains, aches and troubles almost miraculously disappeared until now I feel better than I have felt for years."

"Do you think that you can recommend these physicians?"

"Most assuredly, they have worked such a great change in my condition that I unhesitatingly recommend them to all those who suffer."

CANADIAN WHEAT.

Ohio's Great Protectionist a Humorist.

The Funny Side of His Talk to Ada Farmers.

Washington Is Keeping a Close Watch on the Progress Made in Ohio by the Two Political Parties.

Cleveland, Oct. 13.—The Plain Dealer Washington correspondent reviews Major McKinley's odd speech as follows:

Major McKinley has no reputation as humorist. His speeches never flashed or bubbled with wit. They were always as solemn as funeral orations. I have heard him pull the tail feathers out of the bald-headed American eagle many times on the floor of the house of representatives and I have read the same speeches delivered in other parts of the country, but if there was one element that I supposed was entirely wanting in his makeup it was humor. He seemed as completely without humor, or even a sense of humor, as a mule. But I find I was mistaken. McKinley on Thursday last at Ada sprang into the first rank of American humorists. A single sentence in his speech there ought to place him in the shining galaxy with Bret Harte, Artemus Ward and Mark Twain.

The major, in answering Gov. Campbell's argument in favor of the proposition that the tariff is a tax paid by the consumer, first unlimbered some of his ponderous, old-style artillery. With the utmost solemnity he swept his hand toward the east and called on his audience to witness the fuss England was making over the enactment of the McKinley law.

"Did that not prove conclusively that England paid the tax and not the American consumer?" asked Major McKinley. It was what the republican protectionists have said a thousand times. It was the sort of argument McKinley himself had used over and over again, but never until that moment did the ridiculousness of it strike him.

When it did it seemed to awaken all the latent humor in his nature which had lain dormant until that moment. The desire to use his new-found gift and cap his speech with the joke of the season was irresistable. And he did it.

"If you want to know who pays the tax," he went on, "ask the Canadian farmer who brings his wheat to Erie county, Buffalo, N. Y. The Erie county farmer takes his wheat there too. They meet at the same market place. The Erie county farmer takes 90 cents home with him. The Canadian farmer takes 90 cents less 25 cents; the American tariff."

The major didn't laugh when he said this and neither did the audience, as I noticed that bracketed laughter did not follow the sentence, but McKinley doubtless appreciated the joke he was perpetrating all the more from the fact that it was taken seriously. McKinley's life study has been the tariff. He revels in the figures of exports and imports as some men revel in wine. Sometimes, too, like champagne, the figures sparkle and go to his head. But he knows them all the same.

He knows that the duty on grain, placed there ostensibly to "protect" the American farmer, is a most transparent dodge to make the farmers, who are constantly asked to give, give, give to the protected manufacturers, believe that they also are playing a bunco game on somebody else.

He knows that the American farmer goes into the open markets of the world and sells, in competition with all the nations of the earth, over 60,000,000 bushels of surplus wheat annually, and that therefore the duty on wheat is as useless and as senseless as a duty on the free air of heaven would be.

When he asks the Ohio voter to go to Buffalo and find out for himself just how the foreigner pays the tax by standing in the market place and watching the Canucks wheel their wheat across the suspension bridge to pay 25 cents a bushel for the privilege of selling it in competition with the farmers of this free republic he was not serious.

He was simply indulging his new-born gift of humor. He didn't expect the farmers to believe it because he knows they are not gibbering idiots. He certainly did not want them to go to Buffalo and try the experiment because if they had they would not have returned in time to vote for him Nov. 3.

He knew he could go to Buffalo and stand in the market place until the hair of his head wore out the heels of his socks without seeing a single Canadian pay 25 cents to sell a single bushel of wheat there.

I have gone carefully through the records of the bureau of statistics of the treasury department since the McKinley bill went into effect a year ago and up to date not one single, solitary bushel of wheat was brought to Buffalo from Canada—not one. Last year before McKinley raised the tariff on wheat from 20 to 25 cents a bushel, however, there was more activity on the Canadian border in the region of Buffalo in anticipation of the enactment of that law.

The same activity existed along the Atlantic seaboard, where vessels were rushing goods in to escape increased duty. The crash on the Canadian border, however, was not terrific. The Canadian farmers did not crowd and jam and elbow each other on the bridge. No, but if any one of the voters who heard McKinley talk at Niles had gone to the market place in Buffalo to see his Canadian neighbor selling wheat side by side with him and paying 20 cents for the privilege—if he had gone there Jan. 1, 1890, and remained there until the McKinley law went into effect, Oct. 6, 1890, his vigilance would have been rewarded.

He would have seen three bushels of Canadian wheat sold there. That is what the official reports of the custom house on file at the bureau of statistics show. McKinley knew it, of course, and will admit it if any one will ask him, nevertheless he enjoyed his jeu d'esprit. Before the McKinley law went into effect three bushels of wheat were imported from Canada at Buffalo in a year. That was under a tariff of 20 cents a bushel. That was only a cold frost, but when the white frost of the McKinley bill fell not a single stray bushel found its way in.

In view of these facts uncharitable people would probably say that McKinley at Ada descended from being a statesman into being a buffoon: that he cut such tricks before high heaven as would make the angels weep. I do not think so. I think it was only a manifestation of humor. Well, McKinley has had his little joke. Perhaps the people will have theirs in November.

MAKING THE COAST CLEAR.

Democratic Postmasters Ordered to Go.

Harrison Will Leave No Stone Unturned in Getting Delegates, as Blaine Might Get Well.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Although the president, in conformity with the laws, sat down on the scheme to allow republican clerks to go home to vote at the government's expense in time lost, it does not follow that the administration is not in other ways doing all it can to help along the cause in the close states.

Quite a number of "left over" democratic postmasters have been recently dismissed before the end of their terms in Ohio, Iowa and Massachusetts, no charges having been preferred against them except that their places were wanted for republicans.

Up to quite recently these few postal reminders of the Cleveland administration had been undisturbed because in some instances there were no applicants for their places and in others because the local political magnates could not agree upon their successors.

As the campaign has warmed up, however, the local bosses have got together and Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Rathbone has selected as their successors persons who it is thought can help the party in these very close states.

SCHEMING FOR MONEY.

More Millions Needed by Mr. Porter.

How He is Planning to Win His Point.

Congressmen All Over the Land Given to Understand That Public Office is Synonymous With Public Plunder.

Columbus, Oct. 12.—The census bureau is destined to make the present republican national administration a stench in the nostrils of all honest people. In a recent article from this city, based on information received from Mr. Moore, a former clerk in the department, the reckless extravagance of Supt. Porter was shown up.

From a gentleman residing in Washing city and connected in an official capacity with the government, who recently visited this city, a few additional facts in reference to the mismanagement of the department by Supt. Porter were obtained.

In this connection the word mismanagement hardly expresses the idea sought to be conveyed, for the reason that the scheme now being worked by the republican superintendent of the census is in the nature of a bulldozing trick, and indeed it might be characterized by putting it even in stronger language.

Having squandered the $7,000,000 appropriated by congress with which to complete the census, and from which the people have received very little benefit, Mr. Porter is now, according to the information, engaged in laying the foundation for securing an additional allowance by congress of not less than $2,000,000 or $3,000,000.

He is going about the matter in what might be termed a business-like way, but it is very doubtful if he succeeds in getting that sum to be distributed among republican henchmen who have been kept on the payrolls without rendering anything like an equivalent in the way of service.

The force of clerks has been cut down because nearly all the money has been recklessly spent and a still further reduction is contemplated. Just here is where Mr. Porter seeks to lay the foundation for another dip into the national treasury.

He has, according to the statements of the Washington gentleman, prepared a hectograph letter addressed to those gentlemen who have been re-elected and, through whose influence the appointments were made in the department.

This letter, in substance, tells the congressman of the proposed further reduction in the department and goes on to state the number of appointees credited to the member, to whom it is sent, that are still on the payrolls.

Then a reference is made to the fact that the $7,000,000 is gone and the census is not yet completed. This gentle reminder to the congressman is followed by a very broad hint, which is intended to convey to him the idea that if he will agree to vote for an additional appropriation of not less than $2,000,000—$3,000,000 if deemed necessary—his appointees will be retained; otherwise, it is presumed, unless the congressmen who have been re-elected shall pledge themselves in advance to do Mr. Porter's bidding and aid him in squandering a few more millions of the people's money, their appointees will be dropped from the rolls.

This scheme is being industriously worked by the republican superintendent of the census bureau in the hopes that he may be able to secure a large sum for distribution among the Harrison henchmen and public pap-suckers.

PLEADING FOR FUNDS.

Yea, Even Threatening the Office-Holders.

Notwithstanding All This the Ohio Colony in Washington is Slow in Coming to the Front.

Washington, Oct. 13.—The Ohio republican managers are tearing their hair because federal officials from that state have resisted the assessment levied upon them to aid in defraying the expenses of electing the republican ticket.

Half a dozen hysterical appeals for more cash have reached here from Chairman Hahn, but the clerks did not rush up to the counter and settle, as it was expected they would. On the contrary, some of them took shelter behind the civil service law and others ignored the appeals entirely.

There are in the Ohio republican colony in Washington, which subsists on the government, about 700 souls all told, and these draw annually from the coffers of Uncle Sam $500,000. Counting on the gratitude of these office holders Chairman Hahn expected at least 2 per cent. of their salaries, or $10,000, as the fund from Washington.

Only forty of these persons could be coaxed into contributing and their subscriptions aggregated only 1,000.

The campaign machine in Ohio being in urgent need of grease Chairman Hahn last week wrote to Judge Lowry, the committee's agent here, to try other tactics. Persuasion having failed he was ordered to use threats and a few days ago Lowry sent out to every Ohio republican in this city a call for a meeting couched in the following language:

"My Dear Sir: A meeting of Ohio republicans interested in the success of our ticket this year will be held at the office of McGrew & Small on Friday evening, Oct. 9. Your presence is urgently requested. The necessity of electing Major McKinley by a decisive majority on the issues joined is imperative. The election of a republican legislature is of still greater importance. As the Major says himself: 'Self-preservation is the law of human nature.' Don't deceive yourself by thinking you are safe in any event. Show your republicanism and fealty to the party by attending this conference.

Very respectfully,
JAMES E. LOWRY."

Friday night the Judge was on hand at the hour stated with a receipt book and a big bag to place the boodle in. It was thought that the covert threat in the call would bring every one of the delinquents at double quick but it didn't.

Only eleven republicans showed that they were "interested in the success of our ticket this year," and of these ten showed their "republicanism and fealty to the party" by standing around and discussing the chances of McKinley's election. The eleventh knew what he was there for. He was "interested in the success of the ticket" $25 worth.

Judge Lowry was disgusted. So was Secretary Foster when he heard of the meeting. They are at a loss what to do. They have gone about as far as they can lawfully, but legally or illegally a way will probably be found to compel the clerks to disgore. The call for the meeting was a clear violation of the civil service law and it is expected that Commissioner Roosevelt will be after somebody in a few days with a sharp stick.

WILL GO THROUGH THE FORM

Republicans to Nominate a Senator To-day.

Crawford, Seneca and Wyandot Republicans Busily Engaged in Whistling to Keep Up Their Courage.

Upper Sandusky, Oct. 13.—(Special)—What promises to be a funeral-like convention will be held here this afternoon by the republicans of this senatorial district to nominate a candidate to pit against popular W. C. Gear, the democratic candidate. Horace Deal, of Bucyrus, called the convention, and he may come, but it is doubtful.

Soon after Gear was nominated the people's party followers were induced by the republican committees of the district to hold a convention and nominate a man for senator, on the promise that they would indorse their candidate.

Robert McCammon, of Crawford county, was duly nominated, but before the republican committees would indorse him they demanded that he declare his intention to vote for a republican for United States senator if elected. He refused, and the republican committees turned their backs upon him.

Now they want a man of their own, not because they feel that they have a ghost of a chance of electing him, but just for a bluff. This district, composed of the counties of Crawford, Seneca and Wyandot, is democratic to the extent of 4,100, but despite this great backing, boasts are made in republican papers that Gear will be beaten. Mr. Gear is one of the most popular men of the district, and will be elected by an increased majority, notwithstanding the efforts of a few enemies.

OUR TRADE WITH GERMANY

A Reciprocity Treaty in the Incubator.

President Harrison Following Out the Line of Action Laid Down by the Democratic Party.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Germany has entered into negotiations for reciprocity with the United States, but the concessions to be made are not nearly so comprehensive as a published report has made them out to be.

A United Press reporter learned today from an authority whose thorough knowledge of the negotiations cannot be questioned, that Germany has not offered to admit all American cereals free in consideration of the admission of German beet sugar into the United States without payment of duty. This concession, it was stated, would cause Germany serious trouble with other European countries, and it was too broad a concession to be offered or asked.

Under the McKinley tariff law the admission free of duty to this country of beet sugar manufactured by foreign countries was authorized, but a proviso gave the president authority to suspend, after Jan. 1, 1892, the operations of the law with respect to countries that did not grant the United States some concessions in return for allowing their beet sugar to free entry.

Germany sends more beet sugar to the United States than any other country does, and the removal of the duty on that article has proved a large item in German trade.

No effort was made by Germany, however, to remain within the concession granted by this country, until the negotiations resulting in the removal of the restrictions on the admission of American pork into Germany had been concluded.

These negotiations opened the way for treating on the beet sugar question and matters have assumed a position where the admission into Germany free of duty of some one cereal, wheat in all probability, or of more than one cereal at a very low rate of duty, will probably be negotiated.

This government will not endeavor to secure from the German government concessions of so broad a character that Germany's relations with other nations will be endangered.

THE PRELIMINARY WORK.

Delegates to the State W. C. T. U. Assembling.

Executive Committee in Session To-day—What is Being Done—Who is Here—Who Else Will Entertain.

With very few exceptions the state officers of the Ohio Christian Temperance union are in the city and delegates to the state convention are arriving by every train. In the parlors of the church Mrs. Emma Nicholas, chairman of entertainment committee for the W. C. T. U., and Mrs. W. S. Thurstin, chairman for the Ys, are receiving the visitors who report at the church, while other members of the entertainment committee are at the various depots to receive delegates as the trains arrive.

Can You Entertain?

A large number of the Ys are endeavoring to-day to secure entertainment for visitors. At no time since the preparations for the visitors began have a sufficient number of places been found for them, and within the last twenty-four hours Mrs. Southland has received many notices from ladies who had promised to entertain that they would not be able to do so. Once more the appeal is made through the Bee that all who can will make an effort to help out the entertainment committee. Any lady who can receive one or more delegates is asked to notify the chairman of the entertainment committee, Mrs. C. R. Southland, 1416 Adams street, or call up the committee at the church, phone 264.

The Press Committee.

One of the class rooms in the church has been appropriated for the members of the press, and will have all conveniences for writing and sending messages. Badges will be furnished the representatives of the local press as well as representatives from out of town. Mrs. Maud Dutton, who was a member of the press committee, has been called to Dundee by the illness of her father, and Mrs. Phebe W. Clark, of the committee, of the Maumee Sentinel, will be assisted by Mrs. George Woodbridge.

The Executive Board in Session.

The executive board has held two sessions to-day, and has considered some amendments to the constitution, some of which were rejected and others will be favorably reported on by the board to the convention for action in that body.

The most important of these is a recommendation that the constitution shall be so amended as to secure uniform representation by delegates at county and district meetings. At the afternoon session some changes were made in the original program, which will be announced from day to day.

The executive board consists of the central committee—the state president, recording secretary, corresponding secretary and treasurer—and the presidents of the 25 districts of the state, as follows: Henrietta L. Monroe, president; Antoinette H. Clevenger, corresponding secretary; Jessica A. Morgan, recording secretary; Emma L. Goodwill, treasurer. District presidents—First, Mrs. Agns McClure, Ashtabula; second, Mrs. Lucinda Davis, Cortland; third, Mrs. Mary D. Santley, Wellington; fourth, Mrs. S. Bartlett, Toledo; fifth, Mrs. S. T. Pleasant; tenth, Mrs. Charles Wright, Logan; eleventh, Mrs. Helen S. Burns, Nelsonville; twelfth, Mrs. Mary Moore, Portsmouth; thirteenth, Mrs. R. J. Trego, Delaware; fourteenth, Mrs. W. W. On Wednesday or Thursday at the latest, Miss Jennie Smith, national superintendent of W. C. T. U. work among railway men, will be in the city. She will speak before the convention, and will remain in the city over Sunday. Any pastor desiring to arrange with her for Sunday speaking is asked to call at the church.

WOODBRIDGE W. C. T. U.

Regular Meeting Yesterday Afternoon—Business Transacted.

The semi-monthly meeting of the Woodbridge W. C. T. U. was held with Mrs. J. W. Callard, corner Elm and Erie streets, yesterday afternoon. There were present Mesdames J. J. Freeman, Dr. Leighton, C. N. Barkdull and daughter, L. A. Stevens, Milton Churchill, A. J. Boice, W. S. Thurston, Ellen Lutz, Ellen Deppes, Irving Hone and Affie Hitchens. Several members were absent on account of illness, including the president, Mrs. W. R. Jones.

Mrs. Callard presided over the meeting, the minutes were read by the regular secretary, Mrs. Hitchens, and devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Barkdull. Mrs. Freeman, chairman of the committee on finance, reported that the 10 members of the union who had started out to raise $5 each, for Woodbridge union's quota to the funds for the state convention expenses, had been successful. They had raised $51.30, which had been turned over to the Union of Unions committee, and later contributions received made the full contribution of Woodbridge union $55.

A motion was passed that it was the sense of Woodbridge union all delegates, including Lucas county delegates, should be furnished with lunch tickets.

The delegates from Woodbridge union to the state convention this week are Mrs. J. W. Callard and Mrs. Affie Hitchens. The committee from the union to assist in serving the noon lunches is: Wednesday, Mrs. L. A. Stevens and Mrs. J. W. Callard; Thursday, Mrs. J. J. Freeman, Mrs. Dr. Leighton; Friday, Mrs. A. J. Boice and Mrs. Milton Curchill.

In the course of the discussion of regular business a case came up which incidentally illustrates the good work these ladies are quietly engaged in. A destitute family was living in an alley near Erie street. The father had borrowed money to get to a couple of weeks' work in a town near here. The mother and four little children left behind were in such abject poverty that but for the kindness of a couple of neighbors, almost as poor, they would absolutely have starved. One of these poor but kind women presented their case to the secretary of the Woodbridge union. She visited the mother and children and found them all hovered together upon one bed, the only one; covered with one thin quilt, a borrowed one; without food or fire. Four dollars rent was due, and the owner of the house was about to turn them out, as she was poor and depended upon this rent.

Through some of the Lagrange street teachers an appeal was made to the scholars in that building for "penny" contributions, and in this way $6.28 was raised, all of which was applied to pay rent due and rent in advance for the family. The union extends a vote of thanks to these teachers and scholars for their assistance.

Members of the union have contributed bedding and clothing and food to this family, and the two eldest children are this week attending school. The family still need fuel, and one member of the union undertook to get a temporary supply for them. Others will try to find some clothes for the father, who does not present an appearance that can aid him in securing work.

The next meeting of the union will be on Monday afternoon, October 26, at 3 p. m., with Mrs. Ellen Deppes, 1131 Erie street.

SPORTING LIFE IS SPEEDY.

New Orleans, Oct. 13.—John Duffy, a well known local sport, committed suicide yesterday in the building 136 Common street, formerly used as a gambling house, by shooting himself through the brain. No cause can be assigned for the deed.

After a careful investigation of all the first-class pianos in the market, Dr. and Mrs. James L. Watson decided upon the Conover upright as the best, and they are now the owners of as fine an upright piano as there is in the city. Messrs. Greene & Co. are to be congratulated upon being the representatives of so fine an instrument as the Conovers

To-morrow is ladies' day at the Turkish Bath, 218 Superior street. Hours from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m.

BIG OIL DEVELOPMENT

In a New Pennsylvania Field.

The following bit of oil news from the Pittsburg Leader has a local interest inasmuch as Mr. W. P. Rend, the owner of the valuable well, is one of the principal owners of the Phenix Coal company of Toledo, of which Mr. G. G. Hadley is president:

There is considerable excitement at the present time among the oil men of Western Pennsylvania over the oil prospects on the land of W. P. Rend, the Chicago oil magnate, at McDonald. In fact, the matter is now attracting even more interest than the great Mevey gusher. The Rend well entered the third, or Gordon, sand two days ago at a depth of 2100 feet, and is now doing over four hundred barrels per day. Yesterday the flow from the field was so great that many of the wells, including the Rend, had to be shut off until additional tankage and pipe line facilities could be secured. This is remarkable, as it is the first time in the history of the Standard company's pipe line that it has been unable to handle all the oil offered it. In the meantime the Rend well has been examined by a number of experts and all pronounce the indications to be of a most promising character and prophesy that when the well enters the fifth sand it will even exceed the famous Mevey gusher in its output. The Mevey well for the first few days made 15,000 barrels daily, but the Rend is expected to far exceed this amount.

The finding of oil on the Rend property will largely widen the original belt and is regarded as demonstrating that the oil property is more extensive and valuable than has ever before been estimated. The Rend property includes over 2,500 acres and a large number of wells will be put down as soon as possible. Although the McDonald field has been developed within sixty days into the most extensive oil field ever discovered in this country, its present output will be more than double if the Rend land keeps up to what is now expected from it.

It is rumored that Mr. Rend intends to organize a company for the developing of his territory, but nothing definite is known on this point, as he has all the wealth necessary to work it himself.

AROUND THE WRECK.

The Carpenter Gets Through Hay Lake Channel.

Sault Ste. Marie, Oct. 13.—United States Engineer Wheeler says the channel around the Peck will be cut by Wednesday. Four dredges are at work.

The work of dredging the cut around the wreck is reported at noon to-day as progressing favorably. Insurance Agents Reardon and Sullivan, representing the hull and cargo interest, will inspect the wreck to-morrow. The upward and downward-bound fleets are rapidly increasing. The prospects are poor for a passage to open within 48 hours.

The steambarge O. O. Carpenter, one of the detained fleet below Lake George flats, with the assistance of Pilot Rains succeeded in passing up the new Hay Lake channel, arriving here at 10 a. m. She goes on record as being the first freight steamer to make the passage.

MUSICAL TROUBLES.

Now that the season is just opening more trouble seems to be brewing in the Musicians' union, and the men who toot horns and scrape fiddles do not seem able to get together and settle their difficulties. It is said that the meeting last evening was a lively one with some red hot debate. A proposition was set on foot to place all the union music under one director, who should handle the whole business. This was promptly opposed by the professional musicians and defeated.

ANOTHER COG STRUCK.

The street railway fight in the common pleas court continues, as vigorously as ever.

Never before in the history of litigation in Lucas county, or the state of Ohio for that matter, has a cause been fought with such determination and unceasing energy.

The one side makes a clever point and gains a position, the other by a flank movement just as clever makes another point.

To-day City Solicitor Read filed a suit in common pleas court petitioning for a preliminary injunction restraining the Robisons from constructing a second track in Hamilton and Hoag streets. The injunction is applied for on the ground that the constructing of a second track in these streets is a violation of the easement and that the consent of the property owners was given for one track only.

GENE KNIGHT'S DISCOVERY.

Mr. Eugene Knight, the well-known fish merchant, is the first authority heard on the subject of trichinae affecting bivalves. All are inclined to the opinion, however, that Gene's theory, that oysters feed upon diseased and decayed pork and meats thrown into the salt waters, is an imaginary romance created for the purpose of shielding the slender purses of young clerks and others from the encroachment of their "best girls" in their inordinate demand for a supply of the luscious esculents during the approaching season of church socials, fairs, etc. If the knight of the oyster understood the nature of the average "best girl" he would know enough to be satisfied that no diatribe of his, or even of a professional, would prevent her from eating oysters when the appetite was on, trichinae or no trichinae.

ANNIVERSARY SURPRISE.

SUDDEN DEATH OF H. T. STOCK.

A dispatch was received late last night by E. J. Stock announcing the death of his father, H. T. Stock, at Mobile, Ala., yesterday. Mr. Stock left the city for Mobile two weeks ago in the best of health. His mission in the south was of a business nature, and he expected to return to Toledo in a few days, and the first intimation of his being in ill-health was the shocking news of his death last evening. His sudden demise was caused by heart disease.

Mr. Stock located in Toledo over 25 years ago, connecting himself with H. P. Platt, building dredges, etc. He was next associated with M. I. Wilcox, under the firm name of Wilcox & Stock, which was dissolved a few years ago, and Mr. Stock took an interest in the Toledo Foundry & Machine company, and became its vice president, which office he held when he died. The remains will be brought to Toledo for interment.

A Tiffin Saloon Keeper Causes Consternation.

Tiffin, Oct. 13.—(Special)—J. F. Jackson, who came here a few months ago and opened one of the most elegant saloons in the city, and has been cutting a wide swell ever since his advent, suddenly disappeared this morning, and it is learned has gone to Cleveland, accompanied by two frail females.

Jackson's supposed wife packed her portion of the fine outfit and returned to Pittsburg, their former home, a week ago.

The creditors are numerous and are holding the bag for large amounts as evidence of their confidence in the integrity which Jackson did not possess.

ROBBERS AT LIMA.

Lima, O., Oct. 13.—(Special.)—One of the boldest robberies that has been committed in this city was perpetrated at noon yesterday. The office at L. Reichelderfer and Co.'s lumber yard, on one of the principal streets of the town, was entered by forcing one of the doors, and bursting open the money drawer and cash box in the safe, the robbers obtained about $300 and made their escape without being detected.

This is the queerest part of the case, for the bookkeepers had not been gone over an hour, and hundreds of people pass the place every hour.

The Union News company has been systematically robbed for several weeks past, but has been unsuccessful in finding the thief. The boxes which are left outside the depot are rifled and the losses so far amount to over $50. Although the boxes are watched, the thief has not been caught.

PILGRIMS INNOCENT.

Paris, Oct. 13.—Cardinal Langenieux has written to M. Fallieres, minister of public worship, declaring that the French pilgrims had nothing whatever to do with the recent Pantheon incidents of Rome; nevertheless he is organizing a committee to stop pilgrimages of such a nature. He directs the attention of the government to the exceedingly anti-French character of the Italian demonstrations upon that occasion.

ENGLISH ELECTIONS FAR OFF.

London, Oct. 13.—Right Hon. Edward Stanhope, secretary of state for war, who represents the Horncastle division of Lincolnshire, has informed his constituents that there is no immediate prospect of a general election. He has no reason for believing that it will take place before July, 1893.

DROWNED WHILE FISHING.

New York, Oct. 13.—Stephen Ketchum, 54 years old, and his son-in-law, Mr. Bennett, went on a fishing trip to Jamaica bar Sunday. Nothing has since been seen or heard from them and it is believed their boat was upset during the high wind which prevailed on that day and that they have perished. Both have families in Brooklyn.

GAVE HIMSELF UP.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 13.—Engineer Meaney, of the New York & New England train which was wrecked at Hawleyville September 24, surrendered himself yesterday. Three lives were lost by the accident, and the coroner issued warrants for manslaughter against Meaney and Conductor Conrad. Both men fled. Meaney gave bail in $2,000.

BAD FREIGHT WRECK.

Lima, Oct. 13.—The Chicago & Erie road had a bad wreck at Manhattan, a small oil town about four miles eastof this city. A freight train parted and the two sections coming together caused a big wreck. A large number of cars were smashed and broken up and traffic blockaded for several hours.

ANOTHER WANDERER.

PENSIONS OF THE WEEK.

Washington, Oct. 13.—A statement prepared at the pension office shows that the total number of pensions granted during the week ending October 3 was 7,190, on which the aggregate for the payment amounted to $1,009,014. The average first payment on each case was $140.34.

HOW BEN BUTLER LEARNED HISTORY.

There was another part of my education which was thoroughly instilled—the traditional history of the revolution, its battles and events. Two of our neighbors were revolutionary pensioners, and our kitchen firside was a very pleasant resort for them, as the cellar was furnished with an unlimited quantity of cider, which was drawn for them in a tall, yellow earthen pitcher with an overhanging lid dropping away from each side. To fill it three-parts full, and then bring it up from the cellar, was about the extent of my physical ability; but that I was to do. Then they would take down from the mantel-tree some red peppers which hung on a string under the gun, and cut them up and put them into the cider. Next, they set the pitcher down on the hearth before a blazing fire held up by a forestick—a stick about four feet long and eight inches through—so that the cider would get very much heated; and then it was drunk and they told stories of the opening of the revolutionary war, the massacre at Lexington, and the Battle of Bunker Hill; and so talked on until I had as deep-seated a prejudice against a redcoat as our turkey-gobbler exhibited to a red petticoat, when he drove my sister into the house.—From "Benjamin Butler's Boyhood," by himself, in the New England Magazine for October.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles.

London wheat market quiet and firm; corn quiet. Liverpool wheat firm. California 1 penny higher.

The receipts of wheat at seven principal western points to-day are 1,201,792 bushels, compared with 349,082 bushels on the same day last year.

In our statement yesterday of increase in the visible supply of corn it should read 2,057,000 bushels decrease.

Shipments of wheat from India last week equaled 880,000 bushels. Previous week, 1,420,000 bushels. From April 1, the commencement of the crop year, to Oct. 10, 35,580,000 bushels, compared with 19,780,000 bushels in the corresponding period in 1890.

The imports into the United Kingdom for the week were 2,728,000 bushels of wheat and 140,000 barrels of flour, equal to 3,358,000 bushels of wheat, and 416,000 bushels of corn.

The quantity of flour and wheat on ocean passage decreased last week 2,528,000 bu, being a decrease to the U. K. of 768,000 bu, and a decrease to the continent of 1,70,000 bu. Corn increased 16,000 bu.

Our table herein of available wheat and corn shows a decrease of 925,675 bu wheat, and a decrease of 2,040,980 bu corn.

Thompson & Co., of Leesburg, Ind., write us that the growing wheat in that country needs rain—that none has fallen since September 1—and that the roots of the wheat betray the germ of the fly.

Continental stocks of wheat—Berlin, 88,000 bu; Manheim, 2,880,000 bu; Konigsberg, 440,000 bu; Libau, 8,000 bu; Antwerp, 4,400 bu; Havre, 3,800,000 bu; Salonica, 520,000 bu.

Seed Market.

London, Sept. 28.—Messrs. John Shaw & Sons, seed merchants, of Great Maze Pond, London, S. E., report that clover seed for the moment excites but languid interest. As regards new American red, the prices asked are above the views of English buyers. Alsyke, white and Trefoil keep quiet but steady.

The receipts of wheat to-day at seven principal western points are 675,944 bu. in excess of the corresponding Tuesday in 1890.

The export clearances yesterday from four Atlantic ports were 303,356 bu. of wheat and flour to an aggregate of 400,000 bu. The export of corn was 174,968 bu.

English markets as reported herein are stronger and higher for wheat.

Wheat Receipts.

Winter wheat dealers in the interior have sold more freely of late, as our receipts testify. Our letters from Ohio millers agree that farmers are quite generally holding their best wheat at $1.00

Prices.

The markets are decidedly sensitive and are daily shifting front. A great deal of so-called information is telegraphed very day that is rot and bogus, but which for a time affects prices. Yesterday Germany reduced her duty again, but the performance was in a New York office only. Every day English markets close lower, but that is performed in the Chicago wheat pit. Taking accounts of all the breaks noted thus by Chicago, it leaves Liverpool value about one cent a bushel, we should judge.

Markets by Telegraph.

London, Oct. 13.—1:00 p. m.—Wheat cargoes off coast at opening steady; Maize nothing offering. Wheat cargoes on passage and for shipment, quiet and firm. Maize firm. French country markets quiet. Weather showery.

Liverpool, Oct. 13.—1:00 p. m.—Wheat market firm, demand improving, holders offer sparingly. American Mixed corn firm, demand fair, 5s 8 3-4d. Cala. Wheat No. 2 to No. 1, 8s 9d@8s10d. Wheat off coast demand improving; corn demand fair.

New York, Oct. 13.—Cotton dull; middling uplands, 8 11-16c. Futures steady; October, $8 24; November, $8 42. Flour unsettled and weak; city mill extra, $5 25@5 35 for West Indies; Minnesota extra, $3 65@5 65; fine, $3 00@3 65; superfine, $3 30@4 00. Wheat opened strong at 5-8c advance and further improved 3-4c in the early trading. From this there was a reaction of 1-4c; No. 2 red cas h,$1 07; October, $1 06 1-2; November, $1 07 3-4; December, $1 09 3-8. Corn opened strong and 1-8c higher, and further improved 1 1-8c more by noon when the market was still strong; No. 2 mixed cash, 64c; November, 63 1-8c; December, 55 1-4c; January, 52 1-2c. Oats dull but steady; No. 2 mixed cash, 33 1-4c; October, 33 7-8c; November, 34c. Rye and barley dull. Molasses quiet; New Orleans, fair; 21@24c. Sugar, refined, firm; cutloaf and crushed, 5 1-8c; powdered, 4 5-8c; granulated, 4 1-2c. Coffee steady; fair rio cargoes, 16c. Rice nominal. Pork udll; new mess, $11 50@11 75. Lard quiet; December, $6 80; January, $6 91. Butter strong and active; western extra, 29c. Cheese stronger for fancy on light receipts; Ohio factory flat fine, 8@8 1-2c. Eggs firm with a scarcity of stock; western fresh, choice, 22c. Turpentine dull at 37@37 1-2c. Rosin quiet; strained to good, $1 35@1 40. Tallow quiet; prime city, 5c. Petroleum nominal. Freights dull and without change.

New York, Oct. 13.—Money 4 per cent. Exchange steady; posted rates, $4 80 1-2 for 60 days and $4 84 for demand; actual rates, $4 79 3-4@4 80 for 60 days and $4 83@4 83 1-4 for demand.

Governments steady; currency 6s, $1 11 bid; 4s coup, 1$ 16 1-2 bid; extended 2s, registered, $1 00 bid.

The stock market opened with a moderate volume of business and prices fairly steady though generally slightly lower than those of last evening. In the early dealings considerable weakness developed and further slight losses were recorded. After 10:30 the weaknesses disappeared and prices strengthened under the lead of Chicago Gas, Sugar trust, Atchison, St. Paul, Burlington, Rock Island and Louisville and Nashville. Sugar trust and Rock Island advanced 1 3-8 and 1 per cent. respectively, and the remainder of the list 1-8@3-4 per cent. After 11 o'clock the market became dull and prices fell off under the lead of Louisville and Nashville, the latter dropping 1 per cent. At noon prices were irregularly changed from those current yesterday, and at this writing the market is dull. The sales for the morning amounted to only 126,300 shares.

Decreased exportation last week from India, Russia and this country makes a decrease in the ocean stock of 2,528,000 bus., and this decreased movement is, no doubt, a factor of influence on English values.

Another point of interest is the London Times estimate of England's production, which by no means corroborates the late rosy statements on that subject. The Times gives wheat 94.54 of an average, barley 91.60, oats 89.42, potatoes 96.14. Some parts of England have had the poorest crop for 40 years. We maintain that one dollar for wheat at the lake markets under this year's conditions, is a reasonable expectation.

The cable report at 1 o'clock says Liverpool advanced 1 penny. Paris 30 to 40 centimes higher, equal to about 3 cents bushel.

The wheat markets in this country, east and west, have maintained about 1 cent bushel advance over yesterday's closing prices, all day, and have been comparatively steady.

Corn has been higher also and very firm.

In New York October and December wheat closed at a gain of 7-8c. October corn gained 3-4c and November 1c. October oats 1-2c.

In Chicago December wheat closed at a gain of 1c, October corn at a gain of 2 5-8c, and November at 2c. October oats 3-8c.

In Toledo business remains dull. Wheat futures have not shown much activity, and it has been a listless and uneventful day in trading. Prices opened about 1-2c higher and made a further advance of 3-4c, but at close about 1-4c of it was lost. December wheat opened at $1.02 1-4, advanced to $1.03 and closed at $1.02 3-4 asked, a gain of 1c. May opened at $1.08 1-2 and closed at $1.08 5-8, a gain of 1c.

Cash wheat was in much better request than yesterday, but the sales were not large. No. 2 soft sold at $1.00 to $1.00 1-2, a gain of 1c. No. 3 soft at 97c to 97 1-2c. No. 4 soft at 92 1-2c. Rejected No. 1 at 87c. No. 2 at 82c. No. 2 hard at 97 1-2c. No. 3 hard at 92c. No. 1 white at 98c. No. 2 white at 97c. Corn—No. 2 at 57c. No. 3 at 56c. Oats—No. 3 white at 30 1-2c. Rye was steady for No. 2 at 88c. No. 3 1c lower at 86c. Rejected at 79c. Clover Seed—Cach and Oct. steady: January 5c higher Prime for cash at $4.50. Oct. $4.50. Dec. $4.57 1-2. January $4.65. No. 2 at $4.00 to $4.30.

Now the republicans have little hope of carrying Hamilton county.

The republican papers will not deny the existence of a know nothing organization in Toledo, neither will they deny that their candidate for sheriff is an active member.

In the Thirtieth senatorial district the democrats are making a splendid campaign. Mr. Stewart is a popular candidate and will well represent the intelligent district in the senate of Ohio.

McKinley has dodged every question put to him during the present campaign. When he gets out of his set-speech rut he is completely lost and can't even find himself for a month.

A vote for Foster Warren for commissioner of Lucas county will be in the interest of lower taxes, good improvements and honest administration of the office. These three essentials ought to materially aid in his election.

Gov. Campbell will speak at Memorial Hall on Friday night. Byron Ritchie will preside. Hon. Andrew McKinley, of New York, will also address the multitude. It is safe to say that Memorial Hall will again be packed and that hundreds will be unable to gain admittance.

The mugwumps who commended President Cleveland for his obedience to civil service rules in some particulars and grumbled at him for falling short of their expectations and interpretations of the law will find cold comfort in the record President Harrison has made.

If you scratch your ticket at all you must put an X mark by the side of every candidate for whom you wish to vote. The safest way and the surest way to accomplish a good object is to put just one X mark at the left of the line, "Democratic Ticket," and leave the rest of the ticket stand. Try it this year.

The situation in Toledo is certainly desperate when in this republican stronghold it is necessary to bring such speakers as Sherman, McKinley, Foraker and Tom Reed to beg and implore the republican voters to stand by the party. But they will not stand this year. Lucas county will give a democratic majority and it will be a landslide on the whole ticket.

Politics have come to a queer pass in Toledo when a candidate for office is to be proscribed because of his religion. John B. Stuart is daily using this most despicable of all political weapons against Harry Dowling. In this free America, where any special religion is not recognized by our national and state constitutions, a man is in mighty small business who attempts to blacklist another citizen because of his religion. Stuart is a know nothing of the most pronounced stripe and has taken an oath to proscribe such as Harry Dowling

"Have we then fallen so low" that a Washington republican newspaper correspondent in a republican sheet goes on to tell exultingly how the president coaxed Clarkson by an office, in prospect which he (Clarkson) has long wanted, to forsake Blaine and come over to him; that "the president has done a great amount of political work during the last few days," and the capture of headsman Clarkson is the grand climax. Commanding ability, great dignity and high mindedness in the chief executive of a great nation—wire-pulling among disreputable politicians to further his own personal aims and ambitions—high standard of political morality a newspaper has which points to such tricks of its party leaders in a spirit of approbation.

Results tell and figures candidly presented do not lie. If a high protective tariff tax would make the country generally prosperous, it has had all the chance in the world and with everything in its favor for the last quarter of a century. It has failed signally, and when the people clamored for relief they were answered by a sixty per cent. advance in taxation, and were told that this would right matters for them. The ridiculousness of such logic is apparent: If, under an already high tariff, the gulf between capital and labor was continually growing wider and deeper, to increase that tax would change conditions for the better! The high tax orator tells you that within the last decade the wealth of Ohio, according to the last census, has increased over $240,000,000; but the republican board of equalization has reduced the value of farm lands in Ohio $60,000,000 within that time. The vital questions involved are: Where is that great increase in wealth? Who has it? and, why, if a high tax law can bring prosperity to agriculturists, doesn't the record show such results after twenty-five years' fair test, as said, with every natural condition in favor of prosperity even in spite of hindrances? Voters who are not sure of their minds on the tariff issue need not trouble themselves with thories; the actual results are before them.

An unofficial Washington report is to the effect that Germany will take the duty off American grain, in answer to the clamor of the people for cheaper breadstuffs. So it seems the tariff is a tax on the consumer in Germany. According to the argument of American high-taxers, the foreign government (the United States has been paying the tariff on grains and pork exported to Germany for the privilege of selling those products in that country. Rather hard on American farmers all these years, if this were true, and the American government has been party to the conspiracy. But the German authorities make no such claim, and when the people demand cheaper food the tax is removed in answer to their clamor. A pretty tangle these high-taxers get into when they attempt to illustrate their theories by facts that all go contrariwise.

An organ of prohibition tariff boasts that the sugar bounty this year amounts to only ten millions dollars, while over fifty millions has been saved to the people by putting sugar on the free list! Just how this last proposition can be true, when the tax on an article does not enhance its price to the consumer, is not easy of comprehension.

Says the wise sir oracle, "what man would not invest ten dollars to save fifty?" From this expression it seems the organ believes that the production of sugar, aided by money contribution from the people's treasury, has reached its maximum the first year of the bounty law. But other organs are predicting wonderful development in the way of sugar making, stimulated by the alms system, and with it corresponding increase of the millions of dollars gift money taken from the growers of other products to enrich the sugar raisers. A bad break for a compiler of primer stories to make.

A vote for the republican ticket this year is—

An approval of high taxes,

An approval of restricted foreign trade,

An approval of oppressed home industries,

An approval of depressed farm values,

An approval of monopoly,

An approval of class legislation,

An approval of lower prices for wool and farm products.

A vote for the democratic ticket this year is—

In favor of enlarged business and unrestricted foreign trade,

In favor of the people and opposed to the classes;

In favor of giving the agriculturalist a fair chance in the race of life,

In favor of the American mechanic, American shipping, and the American republic, and is

A protest against high taxes.

Vote the democratic ticket.

Very little place has been given in administration prints to the report of the National Civil Service Reform League for the reason that its arraignment of President Harrison is bitter and made plainly justifiable. It will be used as it should be, for a campaign document against Mr. Harrison should he be renominated.

The report first quotes the promises of the republican platform in 1888, indorsed by the president in his letter of acceptance, and then shows by recalling his official acts and appointments how he falsified himself in every particular. And in some instances did positive injury to the public service by the flagrant disregard of his solemn word and bond.

The league appointed a non-partisan committee to investigate the census business and their report is to the effect that the census of 1890 is the worst and most unreliable of the last three taken, and the faults of it are directly traceable to the disobedience of civil service rules. The president was importuned by the better men in his own party to place the bureau under the civil service regulations at the start, but he had too many men to placate and reward, and the spoils system in a work like that which radiated into every part of the country and reached an arm into every school district meant votes and influence in the future if it was adroitly managed.

The rules of civil service system are directly under the president's control and to him primarly is the due the almost valueless result of the expensive task. The census bureau was the one of all others that was outside and should have remained outside of party politics. But the League committee have proof of positive refusal to apply the civil service rules in the making of appointments; that incompetent men were engaged to do the work; and there is ground for suspicion that partisan considerations have not been absent.

These are the words of accustation in the report. Small wonder that the document isn't quoted by campaign orators in their laudations of the administration. You will not see any civil service reminders in the pamphlets they send out.

It is not only that the public service has suffered from incompetency in the census work, but President Harrison, the man in the executive chair in Washington who is laying pipes and pulling wires night and day with the industry of a ward politician—he, the ruler of the republic, the head of the government has deliberately broken his promises publicly made and solemnly affirmed.

In good faith, it is said, the republican party in Ohio would better call Mr. McKinley in declaring him too much fatigued, or something, to take further active part in the state campaign. If he is correctly reported from Tiffin he said "the reason sugar was placed on the free list was because it could not be produced in this country;" and "in reply to the assertion that it was the McKinley law that had made wool cheaper, he replied that the McKinley law had kept wool from declining one-half." He also said that "farm mortgages were generally an evidence of prosperity."

A campaign speaker who will stand before men of average intelligence and make three such assertions is badly rattled, stupid or desperate.

If sugar cannot be produced in this country why has the party taxed it for the last twenty-five years to protect the home industry? If sugar cannot be produced in this country why have ten million dollars just been taken from the people's treasury to pay to American growers to "encourage home production?"

His wool argument reminds one of the sick man who was made crazy by mistaken doses. His physician explained that he might have died of some other malady if this course had not been taken, so the friends should be thankful to him for saving his life. Mr. McKinley may remember that the promise was, not that his bill should keep the farmers' wool from declining one-half in price, but that it would increase in price at once, and in demand; whereas it has steadily declined, and the increase in sales has been of the material known as shoddy, for which the consumer pays all wool prices, and the only man who comes out with colors flying is the manufacturer who makes and sells the stuff, except he sees fit to divide spoils with the wholesaler and retailer.

If mortgages on a farm stand for prosperity, what are the farmers complaining about? Strange that the farmers themselves can be so mistaken about this thing they have stirred up the whole country with their cries for a change and their threats of retaliation and revenge. Strange that the valuation of farms in Ohio has gone down sixty million dollars (according to the figures of a republican board) within the last ten years when "mortgages stand for prosperity." Perhaps the Ohio farmer hasn't enough of them. The Kansas farmer has more and he shows even greater ingratitude than the Buckeye.

Mr. McKinley must be wild in his anxiety and has lost his head in consequence. Certain it is he is doing himself and his party great harm and insulting the intelligence of the people before whom he orates. Democrats can find no fault, they may be veen cruel enough to rejoice.

POLITICAL NOTES

Picked Up Anent the Pending Campaign.

Stuart Thinking of Withdrawing—Young Men Who Will Vote Against McKinleyism.

Governor Campbell will speak at Memorial hall on Friday night. Turn out and hear him.

Next registration day is Thursday. Democrats should not fail to make note of it.

John B. Stuart is so badly scared that he has been seriously thinking of withdrawing. He was in consultation with some friends Saturday last and the matter was considered at some length. The balance of the ticket is endangered, and the candidates refuse to put up "the stuff" unless John withdraws. Flickinger says Stuart will drag down with him the entire ticket.

Sam Montgomery, candidate for sheriff on the people's ticket, says that the speech of Mr. Mills pleased him well. The democratic platform Sam also says is all right on the tariff, and were he not in the race himself he would be out hustling for the democratic ticket, although personally a republican.

Chas. P. Griffin was the author of the infamous tombstone bill, and he is responsible for several other equally pernicious enactments that he will have to explain away before he receives the votes of the workingmen of Lucas county. The Collingwood avenue dicker ought to kill any politician in the country.

Railroad men should remember that if McKinley is elected Mr. Squire will have the naming of the next railroad commissioner. McKinley refused to commit himself to the petition of the railroad employes of Ohio on this question for the reason that he had already committed himself.

Five members of the Central Labor union have undertaken the task, it is said, of delivering the vote of organized labor in Toledo to the republican party. It is a contract they cannot carry out. Two of them have promises of positions under Emmick for delivering the goods.

Hon. Frank. H. Hurd is reported as saying that many young men, who are clerks in various stores and departments in Toledo, tell him that, while they are republicans, they see no benefit to accrue to them by reason of the provisions of the McKinley bill, and as a consequence, they will vote, this year, for Gov. James E. Campbell. If this is so, it would not require more than 500 clerks changing from the republican to the democratic side, to throw the offices in Lucas county into the hands of the democracy; and, inasmuch as the democrats have an exceptionally good county ticket, it is safe to predict the election of the entire ticket.

Precinct B of the Sixth ward shows an increase of some 200 voters since last spring, a large majority of whom are democratic. It is conceded that the Sixth ward will return to the democratic fold in November.

It appears that Foraker has taken McKinley at his word and proposes running the race for the United States senator for all there is in it. From communications received in Toledo within a day or two, it has been learned that McKinley is to be thrown overboard should it become necessary to do so in order to elect a republican legislature. It is rule or ruin with the Fire Alarm.

John B. Stuart lost his mascot when Madame De Vere went to the pen, and Sam Hunter lost his when Billy followed the madame.

Dr. Seth W. Beckwith, the republican candidate for coroner, confidently predicts his election by 1,500 majority. The genial doctor is nothing if not sanguine, but he will find his great expectations sadly disappointed, when the votes are counted and himself the recipient of the worst political Van Pelting he ever experienced in his life.

The republican farmers in Oregon township are not shedding their coats this cool weather to try to elect either the legislative or the county ticket. The democrats of the East Side are unified, and Jake Englehardt, "et id omne genus," will find they have no mean foe to contend with in the Canada side of the placid Maumee.

Chairman Hone and Secretary Vanfleet are doing good work, and should have the aid of every democrat. A large registration on Thursday will please the committee.

It is the general opinion that the republicans are a little scared over the situation in Lucas county. Hence it is that Sherman, Foraker, McKinley and Reed are booked for speeches in the next two weeks.

The indifference with which most of the republican candidates treat the suffragists of the Sixth ward, gives rise to the thought that is is safe, and there is no work of political education to be done "over the river" during the present campaign by republicans. When the ides of November are past the republicans will awaken to a sense of having been wofully defeated through inaction in one of their boasted strongholds. A gain of some four hundred voters in the Sixth ward since the last election, mostly democratic, is evidence that the old Sixth will swing into the democratic line with nearly three hundred majority.

What the President Needs Most.

The misguided enthusiast who recently gave President Harrison an elephant's foot utterly fails to comprehend the demands of the hour. What President Harrison needs is not an elephant's foot, but a pair of large brogans with hob-nails and copper tips. An elephant's foot has no terrors for Raum, Egan, Wanamaker, et al.—Chicago Mail.

Easy Enough to Sink It.

"Ned" Green, the Chicago millionaire, is still possessed with the idea of starting a big newspaper in that city, and proposes to sink $700,000 in it on the first round. The young man is evidently not of the stingy turn of mind that characterizes his thrifty mother.—Washington Post.

Speed the Day.

The time will soon come when it will no longer be possible to run down to Washington and get the congress to vote riches into the pockets of favored gentlemen at the expense of the whole body of taxpayers. That game is nearly played out.—Philadelphia Record.

RUN BY RAILWAYS.

Lively Meeting of the Board of Councilmen.

The Street Car Companies Show Their Hand

And Again Postpone the General Street Railway Ordinance—Annexation Proceedings Commenced—Other Business.

All members were present at the meeting of the board of councilmen last evening, and as usual where street railway legislation is up, a lively session was held. Also, as usual, the railway companies had their own way. A stranger attending a meeting of the Toledo council could not be blamed if he went away under the impression that most of the councilmen were elected solely to represent the street railway companies. The people do not seem to enter into the calculation in the least. The majority of the board never think of opposing any legislation that the street railway companies may want, and the only hitch that ever occurs is when the interests of the two companies clash. Then the councilmen owing allegiance to the different companies are divided.

There were present at last night's meeting Messrs. James and Will Robison and their attorney, John Kumler, Mr. A. E. Lang of the Consolidated and several other gentlemen interested in street railway matters. It was amusing to see how these lobbyists ordered the members about as though they were working for them by the day.

On the first call a resolution was presented granting permission to property owners on Detroit avenue to grade the street.

A resolution was adopted directing the street commissioner to remove obstructions, consisting of fences and buildings from the alley between Houseman street and Franklin avenue from Lagrange to Locust.

Mr. Schmuhl introduced a resolution, which was adopted, requiring improvement inspectors to give bond in the sum of $1,000.

A remonstrance was presented by the same gentlemen from property owners on Nebraska avenue, Hoag and Hamilton streets, protesting against a double track being placed in the street by the Toledo Electric Street Railway company. This was referred to the committee.

Mr. Neuendorf introduced an ordinance to amend section 638 and making it unlawful for hotel, street railway or other runners to solicit business on the streets or public places. Referred to the committee on by-laws and odinances.

The application and bond of Charles Stine as a sewer builder was approved.

Mr. Walker presented a resolution directing the street commissioner to build a cross-walk on the south side of Germania street at Heston street. Referred to the sidewalk committee.

On motion of Mr. Caldwell the time for the completion of the Front street pavement was extended to November 1.

Mr. Morganthaler introduced a resolution to grade sidewalk beds on Division street from Vance to Wabash street. Referred to the street committee.

Ways and Means.

The report of the ways and means committee meeting held last evening was read and approved. The committee had met to sell improvement bonds as follows:

Vermont avenue	$8,202.22
Fourteenth street	4,696.35
Iron street	4,354.30
Collingwood avenue	8,889.17

The only bid received was one of Spitzer & Co. of par and accrued interest for the Iron street bonds. These were awarded to them, and the auditor was authorized to sell the others when he can.

Committee Business.

Ordinances were passed accepting plats of subdivision of lots 196 and 197 Ironville and of lot 361 Stickney's addition.

A plat of Nearing's subdivision was referred back to the committee, on motion of Mr. Caldwell.

Several abatements recommended by the judiciary committee were adopted.

Ordinances were passed for paving Fifteenth street from Washington to Monroe, for paving Sixteenth street from Monroe to Jefferson, for grading the sidewalk beds on Maumee avenue, and for improving Dawson street.

Resolutions were adopted to improve Walnut street, to open Scottwood avenue and directing the street commissioner to grade approaches to Lagrange street.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the city natural gas inspector to employ two assistants at a compensation of $3 per day.

Resolutions were adopted for new sidewalks on Ontario street, Jefferson street, Summit street, Magnolia street, Pontiac street, Walbridge avenue, Grand street, Barker street, Hewey street, Thurstin street, Robinson street, Woodville street, French street, Tecumseh street and Hoag street.

The clerk was directed by resolution to advertise plans of drainage for portions of the Fifth and Ninth wards.

The General Street Railway Ordinance.

Mr. Pheatt asked that the general street railway ordinance be taken up. This ordinance, said he, should have been reported from the committee at this meeting, according to rule 32 of the council rules. He did not believe that any corporation should step in and dictate to the council, and moved that the ordinance be taken from the committee.

This motion was lost, 8 ayes to 10 nays.

Mr. Pheatt then wanted to know if the president could not bring the matter before the board under rule 32.

The city solicitor said that this could not be done against the will of the board expressed by vote.

Later in the evening Mr. Walker, who had voted on the winning side, moved that the vote on this be reconsidered. The motion was lost, however, by a tie vote, he being the only one to change.

After the vote had been announced Mr. Rutherford stated that he wished to change his vote from no to aye. Mr. Pheatt at once moved to reconsider again. After several points of order had been raised against him by Messrs. Caldwell and Morris, Mr. Pheatt finally succeeded in having a motion put to take the ordinance from the committee.

By this time Mr. Rutherford had again changed his mind, and when the vote was taken he voted no and the ballot resulted in a tie, defeating Mr. Pheatt's motion.

When the resolution came up from the board of aldermen to appoint a joint committee to settle street railway difficulties, Mr. Pheatt again made objections on the ground that several such committees had been appointed without any result.

He made a motion that the resolution be laid on the table. This was defeated by a vote of 12 to 16.

Mr. Caldwell moved an amendment that the council end of the committee be composed of four members instead of three. This was carried by a vote of 16 to 2, and Messrs. Taylor, Pheatt Walker and Rutherford were appointed on the committee. The aldermen who will act with them are Messrs. Huberick and Everett.

Annexation Started.

City Solicitor Reed reported the annexation ordinance drawn up in accordance with the recommendations of the special committee. It was passed without discussion. This ordinance provides for the annexation of all that territory located in Washington township, included within the following boundaries: Commencing at a point on the present corporation line where the same intersects the center line of Nebraska avenue to a point 336.52 feet west of the last section line of section 4, T. 3 United States Reserve, thence north on a line parallel with said section line and 336.52 feet therefrom to the center line of Dorr street, where said Dorr street is intersected by Upton avenue, thence north upon the center line of Upton avenue to its intersection with the center line of Central avenue on Central avenue produced, thence east upon the center line of Central avenue on Central avenue produced to the center of Ottawa river, thence following the meanderings of the center line of said Ottawa river in a northeasterly direction to a point where the same intersects the line between sections 22 and 23, T. 9, R. 7 east, thence north upon said section line to the center line of Sylvania avenue, thence east along the center line of Sylvania avenue and Prairie avenue and said line produced to the north corporation of the city of Toledo where the same intersects the center line of the Ottawa river, thence back and in a southwesterly direction along said corporation line to the place of beginning. The city solicitor is hereby directed to prosecute proceedings necessary to effect such annexation.

Dredging the Harbor.

Mr. Rutherford objected to the confirmation of the contract with James Rooney for dredging a channel in the river from Madison street to the mouth of Swan creek. He considered the price too high, and thought the work could be done for 25 per cent. less next spring.

Messrs. Pheatt and Caldwell objected strongly to any delay in letting this contract, and stated that it could not be gotten any cheaper.

Auditor Walker, when called upon, stated that there was no money or fund from which to pay for this work.

After more discussion Mr. Rutherford's motion was lost by a vote of 8 to 10, and the contract was confirmed.

Other business from the aldermen was adopted.

BUNCO PROTECTION.

How the Farmer is Fleeced by the Farce.

Some Interesting Figures on the Protected Sheep and the Unprotected Hog.

The fool does not know the difference between genuine and counterfeit protection, and is willing to take the counterfeit, green goods, but he only gets sawdust. Protection protects only when it makes the market price which the buyer must pay, and whenever protection protects it is a grand thing for those who are protected. It makes more profit in a month than honest business can make in a year. It gives the fool in business 50 per cent. annual interest on his investment to squander and still show a fair profit on his balance sheet. It benefits all within the range of its influence—directly and consequentially. It has made 10,000 millionaires in the past 10 years, and doubled the fortunes of the relatives and retainers admitted on the ground floor.

What has it done for the farmer's sheep? His sheep, he thinks, have been "protected" since 1868, but is their protection genuine or sawdust? While the mills and factories of the protected 14,500 mill owners have quintupled their outfit and their profits, have our farmers increased the number of the sheep as they would have done if that industry had been protected—if its "protection" were not a bunco game played upon the farmer? Turn to page 680 of the compendium of the last census, and also to the "Report of the Statistician" in the last published report of Secretary Rusk (for 1890):

The unprotected hog is not so pretty as the protected sheep, but he is evidently more profitable. The New England farmer, unable to made a profit on his sheep, turns naturally to the unprotected hog to recoup his losses from the bunco-steerer.

But it may be that the farmers of the middle states have "beaten the bunco" men. Let us see:

How the farmer must bless the unprotected hog that has proved his salvation and made good his losses from protection's wool bunco! Perhaps he does, but no one has yet heard him. He thinks that protection has been good for southern sheep, if not for northern. Has it?

Protection has been a little less destructive than war to the sheep industry.

Protection tells its own story whenever a man stops for a moment to investigate the lies of the bunco-steerers.

* * *

The United States in 1850 had just come into possession of an immense territory specially "designed" by nature for sheep raising. On this far western territory the number of sheep has increased largely; in the north, south and east it has shrunk like a woolen shirt that cost $3 50 and was 72 per cent shoddy. The protection bunco steerer has given the farmer the totals, and attributed the increase in the territories to protection.

* * *

Protection protects under two conditions only:

1. When the producers are organized in a trust and can fix the selling price.

2. When the domestic production is so small as not to affect the market price, which must be the foreign cost plus freight and duty.

And under these conditions, protection is worth from 50 to 500 per cent. income yearly from capital invested.

All other protection is counterfeit—a fraud and a swindle.—Thomas Edgar Willson.

LOCAL LABOR NEWS.

Building Trades Council and Other Meetings Last Evening.

The Building Trades Council held a brief business session last evening. President McMahon was absent owing to the death of his little daughter, and a resolution of condolence was passed. The various delegates reported trade unusually good for this season of the year.

The Bricklayers request the Bee to deny the statement that there is any trouble in their ranks over the matter of wages. They have no grievances, and business is fairly good.

The committee in charge of the K. of L. dance to be given at Pythian castle, Nov. 12, has issued tickets. Grand Master T. V. Powderly will lead the grand march, and the committee proposes to make it a grand affair.

Last evening the Tailors' Union held a lengthy session at Druid hall, and decided to continue the strike unless the merchants make some concessions, which is not at all probable.

The Cigarmakers at their meeting last evening decided to contine their crusade against spurious labels. They have asked organized labor of Toledo to join them in the fight.

The Musicians, the Metal Polishers and the Lumber Inspectors held brief sessions last evening, and transacted general routine business.

JOHN SEITZ HAS FALLEN.

The Political Strain Too Much for Him.

He Cancels His Dates and Returns to His Home to Get Much Needed Rest.

Tiffin, O., Oct. 13.—(Special) — Hon. John Seitz, candidate for governor of Ohio on the people's party ticket, telegraphed Chairman Barnes to-day that he was coming home, sick, and asking that his appointments be filled for the balance of the week.

Mr. Seitz has been on the stump continuously speaking on an average of nine times each week since Aug. 30, and his system has finally given way and he is compelled to take a few days' rest.

His meeting for Waterford to-day was cancelled and Hon. S. H. Snyder of Kansas will fill his appointments for New Philadelphia, Canton, Hinkley and Akron during the remainder of the week, after which it is hoped that Mr. Seitz will be able to resume his canvass.

Lucas Will Do Her Duty.

Hon Grayson Mills, of Sandusky, is the democratic candidate for common pleas judge. The peer of any man on the bench in this district, he should be elected by a large majority.—Toledo Bee.

Everybody in this bailiwick is of the same opinion, and the prospect is that he will get two-thirds of the vote here at least. If the Lucas county voters do their duty, as they can, his majority in this district will double that of any judge elected in it for many years. Judge Mills is popular, capable and growing in grace on the common pleas bench every day.—Sandusky Journal.

A Chance to Vote for Soldiers.

The old soldiers all talk a great deal about their sacred duty in supporting old comrades. Hon. John Ryan and John W. Canary, the democratic candidates for state senators in this district, are both old soldiers, while neither of their opponents on the republican ticket were ever in the army. The vote this fall will show whether the republican soldiers are honest in their professions of the sacred duty of supporting old comrades.—Findlay Courier.

Terrible Accident at Upper Sandusky.

Mrs. James Bender so Badly Injured by a Turpentine Explosion That She Cannot Recover.

Upper Sandusky, O., Oct. 13.—(Special) —An awful accident occurred to Mrs. James Bender, an estimable lady residing in this city this morning.

She was pouring some turpentine into a wash-boiler on the stove. In some manner the turpentine ignited, an explosion followed and the next moment the lady was in flames.

Every stitch of clothing was burned off of her, and her person was so badly burned that the flesh hung in shreds. She cannot live.

"HURRY UP."

The words came harshly from the stage manager; an impatient audience are awaiting the next act, and she who has fainted takes the leading part. This is "a peep behind the scenes," and a sight familiar to the "green-room" of every theatre. "Has she worked too hard, or been careless of her health?"

Actresses, singers, and others in the profession, do not always think; they rush into the tide of popularity, regardless of all save fame and fortune. YOUR MOST DANGEROUS FOE

And How to Surely Overcome It.

"Sleeplessness is a rapid road to the insane asylum. Men allow care, anxiety or business troubles to drive sleep from their eyelids, while women, with unstrung nerves and excitable temperaments, pass hours upon hours each night in sleepless, restless misery.

What wonder that there are so many shattered nerves, tired brains and debilitated bodies, when we consider the thousands who pass sleepless or disturbed nights, and rise mornings feeling indescribably miserable, dragged out, with tired limbs, exhausted energies, nerveless and ambitionless.

It is maddest folly to use opium, morphine or chloral. There is one sure way to cure sleeplessness—use Dr Greene's Nervura. This wonderful remedy is nature's own sleep producer, and is perfectly harmless, being made from pure vegetable medicines.

It soothes, calms and quiets the weakened, irritable and over wrought nerves, producing perfect repose and refreshing, natural sleep; at the same time it builds up the shattered nerves, and gives renewed life, strength and vigor to the system. Use it, you who are sleepless. All druggists, $1.00.

"I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Greene's Nervura as being a good remedy for sleeplessness. Having been troubled in this way for three years, and objecting seriously to opiates, I have used Dr Greene's Nervura with great benefit. I have also recommended Nervura to many of my friends, who have been much benefited by its use. Mrs. G H. HILL.

Readers generally wish that a novel would close happily. On this subject Howells says: "It is charming to have the story end happily, as it does; but after one has lived a certain number of years and read a certain number of novels, it is not the prosperous or adverse fate of the characters that affects one, but the good or bad faith of the novelist in dealing with them."

An English syndicate recently sent an expert mining engineer to look up the old gold mines in Portugal. He struck one of the old Roman mines worked in the days of Caesar Augustus. In those days they cut down the vein, and this vein was 500 feet deep before pay rock was reached. The mine was open for an area of 10 acres or more up to the surface, every foot of ground having been taken off. The debris around these old mines could be worked over at a profit were they in America, but in Portugal it would cost too much for the transportation of machinery.

A letter nine years on its travel is a rare occurrence nowadays. On Sept. 6, 1882, Herr L., living in Prenzlau, sent a letter to his brother at the Wellington hotel, Christ-church, New Zealand. The letter arrived safely, but never reached the hands of the person to whom it was addressed; and now, after nine years' traveling, has been, through the postoffice in Berlin, returned to the sender. Numerous German, English and French postmarks and remarks cover the envelope, and apparently it was for a long time unnoticed in the letter box at the Wellington hotel. The envelope bears the English postmark Oct. 3, 1882, the date of its arrival at the hotel. Another date is June 8, 1891, with the inscription, "Non reclame" and "Not called for." It then went back to Germany. On Aug. 18 it fell into the hands of the sender at Prenzlau. His brother, to whom it was sent, died long since.

THREE THOUSAND PATRONS

The City Gas Department Still on the Boom.

Consumers Can Now Make Their Own Connections—More Lines to be Laid—Meeting of the Gas Trustees.

When Gen. J. W. Greene predicted three months ago that the city gas department would have 3,000 patrons on its books before snow came, he was laughed at. It developed, however, at the meeting last evening that there are 2,400 names on the books, and that the 3,000 limit will be reached by Saturday evening. This at the low average of $40 each, large and small, gives an income of $120,000. The trustees expect to make the number 4,000 before November.

"Will you sell gas to one large consumer at 1 1-2 cents a thousand or to a number of smaller consumers at 8 cents a thousand? That's the question for the board to consider."

Mr. Brown was the speaker, and the question up before the gas trustees was the giving of gas to the Hall brickyards.

"Why not vote to repeal the contract?" responded Dr. Jones.

"I never voted to make the contract," retorted Mr. Brown, "I opposed making the contract first and all the time."

Manager Heston said gas could not be supplied unless the rolling mill and other large consumers were cut off.

A proposal to Keller Bros. to make connections at a rate of $2.50 a connection was accepted.

It was decided to allow consumers to make their own connection and to give them $2.50 for so doing.

There was quite a large attendance of outsiders at the meeting.

Mr. Rudolph Brand presented a petition for gas for Grasser & Brand's brewery. He said the Northwestern had refused to renew the contract. It was referred to the committee on prices.

Mr. H. H. Lamont presented a petition for a line on Indiana avenue, and it will be laid when $600 is paid in.

The Buckeye laundry also applied for gas and connections and the application was granted.

Mr. Jacob Englehart appeared in behalf of petitioners on Broadway, and it was referred.

H. C. Ellis asked that the line to the Hall brickyard be laid at once. It will be laid, but will be changed from a 3 to a 4-inch line.

J. P. Delphy appeared before the board on behalf of a Mr. McCready, who was discharged some time ago. The matter was referred to the manager.

Claims amounting to $248 were ordered paid.

Dr. Forbes asked that the board lay a short line to a family who has a member dangerously ill. Referred.

W. J. McCullogh wrote complaining of the fact that while he was the lower bidder for connecting the wells in the field, he was not granted the contract. Referred.

Joel Potter petitioned for gas for his flour mills on the East Side. Referred.

Lines were ordered laid on the following streets:

Fair street.
Twelfth, from Adams to Oak.
Broadway, from Clayton to Knapp.
Hawley, to a point 96 feet west.
Oakwood, Lawrence to Shaw avenue.
Division, Vance to Forrer.
Division, Wabash 300 feet south.
Erie, Buffalo to Stickney avenue.
Alley between Huron and Superior from Adams 100 feet west.
Locust, Crane lane 112 feet north.
First street, Oak 70 feet east.
Broadway, South to Colburn.
Bridge, First to Third.
Walnut, Utica 100 feet south.
Gibbons, Wabash to Wayne.
Thayer, Broadway to Wabash railroad.

Petitions were read from residents of the following streets:

Lafayette, from Division to Lenk.
Alley between St. Clair and Oliver, from St. Clair to Logan.
Knapp, from Oliver to alley between Oliver and Broadway.
Ostrich lane, from Locust to Lagrange.
Brown, from Woodville 300 feet south.
Western avenue, Field to Warren.

The petitions were referred.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Consider a Good Grist of Business.

Major Brown on Hand to Talk Insurance—Crowded Buildings—An Effort to Remedy the Same—Tribute to Mrs. Warner.

A full attendance was present at the bi-monthly meeting of the board of education last evening, several insurance agents were also present, and took an active part in the discussion of the insurance matter.

After the minutes of the previous meeting had been approved, a notice from the city auditor was read, stating that the board could save 12 54-1,000 per cent. by advancing the assessment on the Walbridge avenue improvement. Referred.

The insurance question was then brought up and provoked considerable discussion.

Mr. Major explained the situation of the board in the matter, and thought that it would not be right for the board to pay the full amount of the bill. He made a motion that they pay for the insurance at the short rate premium of 19 cents per hundred for the one and one-half months' time that the policies were held by the board.

Mr. Beckwith seconded the motion, but before it was acted upon, Major Brown spoke in behalf of the insurance companies. He fully explained their position, and stated that the bill was all right, and that it was the duty of the board to pay it in full.

Major Brown also reprimanded the board for the language in part of the correspondence between him and the clerk, also for placing a large block of new insurance in the hands of an agency before asking for bids from the other companies. He presented a note signed by most of the companies' agents, stating that no request had been made to them for new insurance.

Mr. Major said that there was the name of an agent on the letter who had made the proposition to him to take the insurance on two years' time.

Mr. Brown dared him to name the party.

Mr. Major said he would not, but would sign an affidavit to the above effect.

Mr. Brown closed his remarks with the request on the part of the insurance agents interested, that the bills be allowed in full, and that an apology be extended to them. He also stated that no other proposition would be entertained.

The result of the discussion was that the bills were referred back to the finance committee to be adjusted and reported at the next meeting.

A quit claim deed was granted to a Mr. Dexter for property purchased a few years ago, a deed for which had never been properly signed by the board.

The superintendent of buildings was given the power to put in a filter at the Sherman street school, to overcome the trouble caused by a shortage of water in the well.

A complaint about the Jefferson street school closets was brought up. No action was taken, but an investigation will be made. The Smead system was recommended as a remedy.

Mr. Zirwas submitted a sample of corrugated rubber matting for the high school, at $2 per yard. Referred to the building committee with power to act.

The question of providing additional room at the crowded buildings, was the next subject discussed.

Mr. Zirwas and Mr. Beckwith were both of the opinion that some means should be provided, and recommended the building of additional rooms at once. The matter was referred to the building committee, with the members from the crowded wards, to report at the next meeting.

The use of the Spring street school was granted St. John's M. E. church for three months, to be used as a mission Sunday school.

Mr. Zirwas made a motion that Rev. Weber be granted the same privilege at the Walbridge school. After considerable discussion and a failure of an attempt to refer it to the building committee, the motion was withdrawn.

The treasurer submitted his monthly report as follows:

Sept. 31, balance on hand	$57,567 68
Received from collections	246 00
Total	57,813 68
Orders paid	52,563 25
Balance on hand	5,250 43
Orders outstanding	1,645 45
Balance available	3,604 98

The committee reported on the matter of the occupying of Mr. Goulden's property at the Monroe street school, and it was authorized to purchase the required number of feet from him at $32.50 per foot.

Clerk Compton's report showed the enrollment of pupils for the month to be 10,586, as against 9,860 for last year at the same time.

Truant Officer Disher reported as follows: Number of visits, 67; number kept at home, 10; number kept at home sick, 12; number not attending, 20; visits to factories, 10; iregular pupils, 6; not returned, 21; truants, 5; visits to schools, 21.

As only one bid had been received for the publication of the annual reports, the matter was referred to the committee on printing with full power to act.

Before the meeting adjourned Mr. Zirwas offered the following memorial on the death of Mrs. Lillian Warner which was adopted:

"Since the last meeting of this board our corps of teachers has been deprived of a valued and faithful member. The painful and shocking death of Mrs. Lillian Warner by fire has moved all our hearts with the deepest sorrow. For the last ten years Mrs. Warner has labored most faithfully and successfully in the interests of the many school children under her charge. She was conscientious and energetic to an unusual degree, and the good she has done in ministering to the moral and intellectual needs of so many young children of this city is incalculable. We deeply deplore the sad accident which has taken her from her work and from us. We extend our deepest sympathies to the bereaved orphan children and direct that this memorial of our regard for Mrs. Warner be recorded in the minutes of the board."

TOLEDO'S NEW DEPOSIT BANK.

The officers of the Merchants' & Clerks' Savings Bank have for some time had in contemplation the changing from their old to new and more commodious quarters. Having this in view, they negotiated for and bought the building formerly occupied by the Daily Commercial. The next and most important thing was the security adequate to their large and steadily increasing business, and recognizing the fact that burglars are still in the land, and that it becomes necessary not only for themselves, but for their depositors, to provide ample means for the protection of their monies, bonds and other securities both as against fire and the skillful gentry who come unawares, and taking time, they became acquainted with the kind and quality of safes, vaults, etc., in all the different banks of a town. Then if they find good and ample protection (as they are good judges), they don't molest such banks, but on the contrary, as it has proved in thousands of cases, they find a bank where, for want of care, or through indifference, in not keeping posted on that one most essential feature, they hang on to their old safe rather than incur the expense of a change and thus furnish the opportunity for which these bank burglars are watching, and when their poor old safe has so easily yielded up its contents to "Mr. Burglar" they stand aghast and wonder how it could have happened, and where their money has gone. Echo answers "where?" and the depositors flock around and want their mony right off, and people who don't know the cause say, "Why, that bank had a burglar-proof safe," when in reality, though it might have been when it was made, it is comparative "play" in the hands of the modern educated burglar, who knows too well the weak points of those old so-called safes.

The officers of the Merchants' & Clerks' Savings Bank saw all this, and so set about providing in time, a thorough burglar-proof protection of the latest and most approved style. When, after having received propositions from several of the leading safe manufacturers they decided on the Macneale & Urban as being the best mode of construction, which consists in the use of hard and soft or chrome and malicult steel plates, the hard plates being impervious to the best drills and chisels. These plates are each one-half inch thick, and are alternated in the construction, and thoroughly fastened together by means of steel screws, three-quarters of an inch in diameter, so located that no two screws come opposite, as they pass through one, and three-fourths through the next, the work being built from the outside inwardly, these steel screws being placed at short intervals, requiring great care in order to have the holes come exactly opposite from one plate to the other; so when these plates are thus screwed together they form one solid mass of metal, being any thickness required, this one being about two inches thick—meaning the lining of the vault.

The single outside door to this vault—weighing some 7,000 pounds—is is 3 1-8 inches thick. This door closes by means of Urban's patent compound hinge and screw pressure, it being the best known method for opening and closing these ponderous doors. By this method the door is handled with perfect ease, and when closed into its bed, by means of this screw pressure it forces an air tight enclosure. This door is bolted at 24 points, being four bolts up, four down, eight right, and eight left, these bolts being operated by Yale's automatic and three-movement time lock. They are held by a massive bolt frame, which is securely attached to the inner surface of the door. This frame-work, together with the bolts, carrying bars and attachments, are handsomely polished, etched and plated, and are covered by a plate-glass door. The inner doors are double and fold back into the vestibule, being also burglar-proof. Aside from this burglar-proof vault there is a fire-proof vault, which is lined with one-quarter inch iron plates, making in all a magnificent piece of work, well worth inspection. Inside of this burglar-proof vault is a new double burglar-proof steel safe of the same make. Also, to start with, 250 deposit boxes of the latest pattern, which will be increased in number as required.

This work was furnished by H. M. Pixley & Son, of this city, and erected under their supervision.

That Awful Disease.

PETERSBURG, IND., Aug. 8, 1890

Dr Bergen, City:

DEAR SIR—I have been a victim to that awful disease known as asthma, all my life, and very often I would be down with it—not able to be out of the house—and have tried everything I could hear of, but they never did me much if any good. I was finally persuaded to try your Cure. So, after taking a few bottles of it, I was entirely free from asthma and have not had any since and don't feel that I ever will. I always keep a bottle on hand, but don't think I will ever have occasion to use it. I can cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers of asthma. Believe me your true friend,

TO CARE FOR CRIMINALS.

National Prison Congress in Session in Pittsburg.

Ex-President Hayes, of Fremont, in the Chair.

The Methods to be Used in Keeping Children From Straying Away From the Proper Paths.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 13.—It was long after 10 o'clock, the hour set for the beginning of business, when Hon. R. B. Hayes, president of the association, called the national prison congress to order yesterday morning for the third day's session. The interest is increasing, and the attendance was very large.

After miscellaneous business had been transacted, Judge Francis Wayland was introduced. The subject of his address was "How Shall the Children of Vicious or Cruel Parents be Prevented from Becoming Criminals?" Among other things Judge Wayland said that there are several things to be taken into consideration in the discussion of this question. The immigration laws should be amended so as to bring to our land the better class of foreigners as far as possible. The certainty and celerity of punishment, and the speedy trial of accused; reformation within the walls of the prison, and the selection of labor suitable to their reformation and making the term of imprisonment dependent upon the mental and moral fitness of the criminal to be at large. Education is most effective which is earliest. The early education of the young in associating with youthful criminals is consequently of the worst sort. The permanently dependent poor should never receive outdoor relief. They should be sent to our almshouses. Marriages should not be permitted unless the parties are morally and mentally fit.

After Judge Wayland had concluded his address the question was discussed in a personal manner. Col. Gardiner Tufts of Warnersville, Mass., was the first speaker. He said that the system of transplanting children from inferior to good families had a beneficial influence in the past 25 years in Massachusetts and other eastern cities, where the practice had been followed.

Judge Nicholson of Detroit asked if this policy had succeeded in reducing the number of prisoners in the penitentiaries. Col. Tufts answered him that while the number had not been materially lessened, it was owing to the number of foreigners continually coming in.

After he had finished a very interesting talk was given by G. W. Round of New York, who denounced the influence of reformatories.

Judge Brinkerhoff, of Mansfield, O., said this talk about the lack of beneficial results in prison reformation is all bosh. Why, I will venture to say and would be borne out in my statement, if statistics were obtainable, that 75 per cent. of those released from prisons are made good citizens if the institution has been properly managed.

Short addresses were then made by Rev. Father Boyd of New Jersey, and Chaplain Howell of Nebraska, and Rev. Dr. Beecher of Elmira, N. Y., against the incarceration of children.

Father Canevin, of this city said that if the homes can be reached and the fathers and mothers infused with the spirit of Christianity there will be no need of penal institutions for the youth. By the very law of nature the child belongs to the parent. By the constitution of your state religion cannot be forced upon any child. There is no morality without religion.

At this juncture of Father Canevin's address, Warden Patton, of Indiana, asked him whether the child should be taught that the laws of church or state should stand supreme.

The father made a reply which brought forth the hearty applause of the audience. He said: "Teach the child its duty to the church and it has already learned its duty to the state."

The congress then adjourned for an excursion down the Ohio river to the Riverside penitentiary. The delegates were much pleased with the interior arrangements of the prison and highly complimented Warden Wright.

Last evening the congress reassembled. Michael J. Cassidy, warden of the Eastern penitentiary, Philadelphia, opened the session by reading a paper on his impressions of the prisons of England, Ireland, France and Belgium. He said the prisons of the four countries visited were distinct in all respects. While every provision is made for the care and detention of the prison inmates, there is little or no consideration given to the individual peculiarities of the criminal, or no thought manifested how best they can be directed away from the causes that placed them in their present situation in life.

John H. Patterson, warden of the New Jersey state prison at Trenton, followed in an interesting and comprehensive paper on the parole system. After detailing the efforts made to have a parole law passed in New Jersey, and the opposition encountered, Warden Patterson said: "The parole system should be a graduated system in which from the first step upward the criminal should be trained to an appreciation of, and fitted for the use of his freedom and made to comprehend what society has a right to expect from him in his newly acquired relation to it."

In conclusion he said the proper subjects for control were not the hardened criminal who has repeatedly violated the law, but those who are not so wilfully wicked as weak. The session closed after the reading of a paper on criminal statistics by Dr. Roland P. Falkner, of the University of Pennsylvania.

ROLLED DOWN THE BANK.

Successful Attempt to Wreck a Train.

Miraculous Escape of the Passengers From Death in Its Most Terrible Form.

Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 13.—The fast westbound express on the Central Pacific, which passed Colfax early yesterday morning on its way to this city, was wrecked about midway between New England Mills and Colfax. The train passed through a deep cut and out onto an embankment, which had been thrown up to preserve the grade.

Engineer Estabrook did not detect anything wrong until the first two cars were slightly derailed. The baggage car and two day coaches remained on the track, but the four Pullmans and caboose left the track. The Pullman sleeper Santa Cruz turned on its side, and rolled down the embankment for 50 feet before its progress was stopped. In the sleeper were 10 passengers, all asleep at the time of the crash. They were all buried about but miraculously escaped with a lively shaking up, the only person seriously injured being the colored porter of the Santa Cruz.

Investigation showed that an attempt had been made to wreck the train. Spikes had been drawn from seven of the outside rails on the outer edge of the embankment, just at a point where the track makes a curve.

No spot better adapted to the plot could have been selected, and it was evidently selected in the hope that the engineer, fireman and employes in the baggage and mail car would be killed as soon as the forward part of the train struck the loosened rails.

Then the cars could be looted, and as they carried a great deal of mail the plunder would have been very profitable. It was also found that the angle plate used to strap the rails together had been pried off and jammed under the rail.

A sore throat or cough, if suffered to progress, often results in an incurable throat or lung trouble. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" give instant relief.

DOINGS IN PIONEER.

Work on the New Railroad—General and Personal.

Pioneer, O., Oct. 13.—The Lake Shore is pushing the Fayette branch of the railroad in this direction. Workmen are now within five miles of here clearing out the way, and a mile of track is laid west of Fayette, 11 miles east of us.

Rev. R. D. Oldfield, a retired member of the Central Ohio M. E. conference, and now residing in Chicago, preached a good sermon in the M. E. church on last Sunday morning. He was in company with a brother from Wauseon, O., and another from Hillsdale county, Michigan. They all spent the Sabbath at the latter place, not far from here.

Morton Waters, a butcher in this place, aged 25, was buried Sunday afternoon. Funeral in the M. E. church.

The first real killing frost of the season fell on Sunday night.

Rev. J. R. Colgan, the returned M. E. minister, was given a grand reception by his congregation on last Friday night at the parsonage.

The M. E. quarterly meeting will be held here next Saturday and Sunday. Rev. Lease will be present till Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Rev. Colgan received word last week of the death of her brother, Capt. Wm. Boyer, of Muskegon, Mich.

THE PUBLIC PLUNDERERS

Philadelphia Affairs Being Thoroughly Aired.

Patronage Doled Out to the Highest Bidder.

A Systematic Effort Being Made to Hide the Beneficiaries in the Scandal From the View of the People.

Philadelphia, Oct. 13.—The state treasury investigating committee appointed by the senate and house of representatives has resumed its labor. The first witness was Col. Clayton McMichael, of the North American. He was examined as to the payments made by his paper of 40 per cent. rebate on the delinquent mercantile tax advertising.

He admitted that his paper paid such a rebate. No commission, however, he said, was paid to Auditor General McCamant or any one representing him, or to any one whom he suspected or had cause to believe was a public officer.

He, however, declined to state whether the commission was paid to H. M. Graffen, an employe of the auditor general's office. He further said he should decline to answer any questions relating to his private business.

"Was there any conversation with Bardsley or McCamant in relation to the rebates?"

"No."

"With any one representing them?"

"No."

"With any one?"

"Yes," answered Col. McMichael, but he refused to state who it was on the ground that it was private business.

Attorney General Hensel then again asked the witness to whom he paid the money and requested Chairman Smith to order the witness to answer it.

Lawyer Heverin, Col. McMichael's counsel, objected to this question on the ground that it concerned private business and said it would be unjust to ask them in view of the legal proceedings which had been begun.

The committee retired for consultation and upon their return Chairman Smith said: "I desire to say that the committee has unanimously instructed me to ask, first, to whom did you pay a commission on mercantile taxes in 1889 and 1891?"

"I decline to answer," replied Col. McMichael, "on the ground that it is private business."

After further discussion the committee agreed to go into executive session and consider the matter at some future time.

Charles E. Warburton, the proprietor of the Evening Telegraph, was the next witness called. He also admitted having allowed the rebate on the advertising of the mercantile tax in 1890, but like Col. McMichael, declined to state to whom the commission was paid.

FIELDEN AND SCHAWB.

Another Attempt to Get Them Out of Prison.

Attorney Saloman Doing All in His Power to Save the Two Men From Life Sentences.

Washington, Oct. 13.—In the U. S. supreme court Moses Soloman of Chicago, as attorney for Fielden and Schwab, the anarchists who were committed to the Jolliet penitentiary for life at the time Spies, Ling, et al., were condemned to death for the murder of policemen at the Haymarket riot in Chicago, will soon file papers in two cases to secure the release of the two convicts and he will move that the cases be advanced. This motion it is believed will be granted.

Fielden's case come to the federal supreme court by an allowance of a writ of error by the supreme court of Illinois. Mr. Saloman contends in his brief that the Illinois supreme court violated the constitutional right of Fielden when it refused to amend the record of the case showing that Fielden was present when the sentence was affirmed, when in fact he was not present, and that the sentence of the Illinois court therefore was void, the court having no power to sentence him to death in his absence.

The case of Schwab is brought to the federal supreme court on an appeal from the denial for rehearing by Judge Gresham of the Illinois supreme court. Schwab's release is asked on the ground that he is confined in a penitentiary on a commutation by the governor and that the governor's warrant is void and that he has no authority for the confinement of any person in the penitentiary. General B. F. Butler is associated with Mr. Saloman in these cases.

SUNDAY LABOR

A General Crusade to be Made Against It All Over the Land.

Pittsburg, Oct. 13.—Rev. Wilbur F. Crafts, D. D., of New York, who is at the head of the Sabbath Reform association, is in this city in the interests of the work. In the course of Rev. Mr. Crafts' remarks in a lecture delivered at the Eighth United Presbyterian church, he stated that a movement would be started at an early day that would startle the citizens of the United States. The movement has not yet been fully outlined. Enough is known, however, to warrant the statement that an effort will be made to stop all Sunday work of all kinds, except works of necessity, which has already been settled by law.

This city has been selected as the starting point for this reform wave, which is to sweep the country. It is now proposed to stop street cars, Sunday trains, Sunday newspapers, etc.

GRIP THE GOSPEL WEAPONS

And Fight a Hard Battle for the Lord.

The Bible a Two-Edged Sword of Truth When Placed in the Proper Hands.

Brooklyn, Oct. 13.—Dr. Talmage's text Sunday was: ii Samuel, xxiii, 10: "And his hand clave unto the sword."

A great general of King David was Eleazar, the hero of the text. The Philistines opened battle against him, and his troops retreated. The cowards fled. Eleazar and three of his comrades went into the battle and swept the field, for four men with God on their side are stronger than a whole battalion with God against them. "Fall back!" shouted the commander of the Philistine army. The cry ran along the host. "Fall back!" Eleazer having swept the field throws himself on the ground to rest, but the muscles and sinews of his hand had been so long bent around the hilt of the sword that the hilt was imbedded in the flesh, and the gold wire of the hilt had broken through the skin of the palm of the hand, and he could not drop this sword which he had so gallantly wielded. "His hand clave unto the sword." That is what I call magnificent fighting for the Lord God of Israel. And we want more of it. I propose to show you this morning how Eleazar took hold of the sword and how the sword took hold of Eleazar. I look at Eleazar's hand, and I come to the conclusion that he took the sword with a very tight grip. The cowards who fled had no trouble in dropping their swords. As they fly over the rocks I hear their swords clanging in every direction. It is easy enough for them to drop heir swords. But Eleazar's hand clave unto the sword.

O my friends, in this Christian conflict we want a tighter grip of the gospel weapons, a tighter grasp of the two-edged sword of the truth. It makes me sad to see these Christian people who hold only a part of the truth, and let the rest of the truth go, so that the Philistines, seeing the loosened grasp, wrench the whole sword away from them. The only safe thing for us to do is to put our thumb on the book of Genesis and sweep our hand around the book until the New Testament comes into the palm, and keep on sweeping our hand around the book until the tips of the finger clutch at the words: "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth." I like an infidel a great deal better than I do one of these namby-pamby Christians who hold part of the truth and let the rest go. By miracle God preserved this Bible just as it is, and it is a Damascus blade. The severest test to which a sword can be put in a sword factory is to wind the blade around a gun barrel like a ribbon, and then when the sword is let loose it flies back to its own shape. So the sword of God's truth has been fully tested, and it is bent this way and that way, and wound this way and that way, but it always comes back to its own shape. Think of it! A book written eighteen centuries ago, and some of it thousands of years ago, and yet in our time the average sale of this book is more than twenty thousand copies every week, and more than a million copies a year. I say now that a book which is divinely inspired and divinely kept and divinely scattered is a weapon worth holding a tight grip of. Bishop Colenso will come along and try to wrench out of your hand the five books of Moses, and Strauss will come along and try to wrench out of your hand the miracles, and Renan will come along and try to wrench out of your hand the entire life of the Lord Jesus Christ, and your associates in the store, or the shop, or the factory, or the banking-house will try to wrench out of your hand the entire Bible; but in the strength of the Lord God of Israel, and with Eleazar's grip, hold on to it. You give up the Bible, you give up pardon and peace, and life and heaven.

I see hundreds, perhaps thousands, of young men in this audience. Do not be ashamed, young man, to have the world know that you are a friend of the Bible. This book is the friend of all that is good, and it is the sworn enemy of all that is bad. An eloquent writer recently gives an incident of a very bad man who stood in the cell of a western prison. This criminal had gone through all styles of crime, and he was there waiting for the gallows. The convict standing there at the window of the cell, this writer says, "looked out and declared, 'I am an infidel.'" He said that to all the women children who happened to be gathered there, and the eloquent writer says, every "every man and woman there believed him." And the writer goes on to say, "If he had stood there saying, 'I am a Christian,' every man and woman would have said, 'He is a liar!'" This Bible is the sworn enemy of all this wrong, and it is the friend of all that is good. Oh, hold on to it. Do not take part of it and throw the rest away. Hold on to all of it. There are so many people now who do not know. You ask them if the soul is immortal, and they say, "I guess it is, I don't know; perhaps it is perhaps it isn't." Is the Bible true? "Well, perhaps it is, and perhaps it isn't; perhaps it may be figuratively, and perhaps it may be partly, and perhaps it may not be at all." They despise what they call the Apostolic creed; but if their own creed were written out it would read like this: "I believe in nothing, the maker of heaven and earth, and in nothing which it hath sent, which nothing was born of nothing, and which nothing was dead and buried and descended into nothing, and arose from nothing and ascended to nothing, and now sitteth at the right hand of nothing; from which it will come to judge nothing. I believe in the holy agnostic church and in the communion of nothinarians, and in the forgiveness of nothing, and the resurrection of nothing(and in the life that shall never be. Amen!" That is the creed of tens of thousands of people in this day. If you have a mind to adopt such a theory I will not. "I believe in God, the Father Almighty, maker of heaven and earth, and in Jesus Christ, and in the holy catholic church, and in the communion of saints, and in the life everlasting. Amen." Oh, when I see Eleazer taking such a stout grip of the sword in the battle against sin and for righteousness, I come to the conclusion that we ought to take a stouter grip of God's eternal truth, the sword of righteousness.

As I look at Eleazer's hand I also notice his spirit of self-forgetfulness. He did not notice that the hilt of the sword was eating through the palm of his hand. He did not know it hurt him. As he went out into the conflict he was so anxious for victory he forgot himself, and that hilt might go never so deeply into the palm of his hand, it could not disturb him. "His hand clave unto the sword." O, my brothers and sisters, let us go into Christian conflict with the spirit of self-abnegation. Who cares whether the world praises us or denounces us? Let us forget ourselves. That man who is afraid of getting his hand hurt will never kill a Philistine. Who cares whether you get hurt or not if you get the victory? Oh, how many Christians there are who are all the time worrying about the way the world treats them. They are so tired, and they are so abused, and they are so tempted, when Eleazer did not think whether he had a hand, or an arm or a foot. All he wanted was victory.

We see how men forget themselves in worldly achievement. We have often seen men who, in order to achieve worldly success, will forget all physical fatigue and all annoyance and all obstacles. Just after the battle of Yorktown, in the American Revolution, a musician, wounded, was told he must have his limbs amputated, and they were about to fasten him to the surgeon's table—for it was long before the merciful discovery of anaesthetics. He said: "No, don't fasten me to that table; get me a violin." A violin was brought to him, and he said: "Now go to work as I begin to play," and for forty minutes, during the awful pangs of amputation, he moved not a muscle nor dropped a note, while he played some sweet tune. Oh, is it not strange that with the music of the gospel of Jesus Christ, and with this grand march of the church militant on the way to become the church triumphant, we cannot forget ourselves and forget all pang and all sorrow and all persecution and all perturbation.

We know what men accomplish under worldly opposition. Men do not shrink back for antagonism, or hardship. You have admired Prescott's "Conquest of Mexico," as brilliant and beautiful a history as was ever written; but some of you may not know under what disadvantages it was written—that "Conquest of Mexico"—for Prescott was totally blind, and he had two pieces of wood parallel to each other fastened, and totally blind, with his pen between those pieces he wrote, the stroke against one piece of wood telling how far the pen must go in one way, the stroke against the other piece of wood telling how far the pen must go the other way. Oh, how much men will endure for worldly knowledge and for worldly success, and yet how little we endure for Jesus Christ. How many Christians there are that go around saying, "O my hand, my hand, my hurt hand; don't you see there is blood on the hand, and there is blood on the sword?" while Eleazar, with the hilt imbedded in the flesh of his right hand, does not know it.

> Must I be carried to the skies
> On flowery beds of ease,
> While others fought to win the prize
> Or sailed through stormy seas?

What have we suffered in comparision with those who expired with suffocation, or were burned, or were chopped to pieces, for the truth's sake? We talk of the persecution of olden times. There is just as much persecution going on now in various ways. In 1849, in Madagascar eighteen men were put to death for Chirst's sake. They were to be hurled to death over the rocks in order to make their death more dreadful in anticipation, they were put in baskets and swung to and fro over the precipice that they might see how many hundred feet they would have to be dashed down, and while they were swinging in these baskets over the rocks they sang:

> Jesus, lover of my soul
> Let me to thy bosom fly.
> While the billows near me roll,
> While the tempest still is high.

Then they were dashed down to death. Oh, how much others have endured for Christ, and how little we endure for Christ. We want to ride to heaven in a Pullman sleeping car, our feet on soft plush, the bed made up early so we can sleep all the way, the black porter of death to wake us up only in time to enter the golden city. We want all the surgeons to fix our hand up. Let them bring all the lint and all the bandages and all the salve, for our hand is hurt, while Eleazar does not know his hand is hurt.

"His hand clave unto the sword."

As I look at Eleazar's hand I come to the conclusion that he has done a great deal of hard hitting. I am not surprised when I see that these four men—Eleazar and his three companions—drove back the army of Philistines, that Eleazar's sword clave to his hand, for every time he struck an enemy with one end of the sword, the other end of the sword wounded him. When he took hold of the sword the sword took hold of him. Oh, we have found an enemy who cannot be conquered by rosewater and soft speeches. It must be sharp stroke and straight thrust. There is intemperance, and there is fraud, and there is gambling, and there is lust, and there are ten thousand battalions of inquity, armed Philistine inquity. How are they to be captured and overthrown? Soft sermons in morocco cases laid down in front of an exquisite audience will not do it. You have got to call things by their right name.

We have got to expel from our churches Christians who eat the sacrament on Sunday and devour widows' houses all the week. We have got to stop our indignation against the Hittites and the Jebusites and the Gergishites, and let these poor wreches go, and apply our indignation to the modern transgressions which need to be dragged out and slain. Ahabs here. Herods here. Jezebels here. The massacre of the infants here. Strike for God so hard that while you slay the sin the sword will adhere to your own hand. I tell you, my friends, we want a few John Knoxes and John Wesleys in the Christian church to-day. The whole tendency is to refine on Christian work. We keep on refining on it. Until we send apologetic words to iniquity we are about to capture it. And we must go with sword silver-chased and presented by the ladies, and we must ride on white palfrey under embroidered housing, putting the spurs in just enough to make the charger dance gracefully, and then we must send a missive, delicate as a wedding card, to ask the old black giant of sin if he will not surrender.

Women saved by the grace of God and on glorious mission sent, detained from Sabbath classes because their new hat is not done. Churches that shook our cities with great revivals sending around to ask some demonstrative worshipper if he will not please to say "amen" or "hallelujah" a little softer. It seems as if in our churches we wanted a baptism of cologne and balm of a thousand flowers, when we actually need a baptism of fire from the Lord God of Pentecost. But we are so afraid somebody will criticise our sermons, or criticise our prayers, or criticise our religious work, that our anxiety for the world's redemption is lost in the fear we will get our hand hurt, while Eleazar went into the conflict, "and his hand clave unto the sword."

But I see in the next place what a hard thing it was for Eleazar to get his hand and his sword parted. The muscles and the sinews had been so long grasped around the sword he could not drop it when he proposed to drop it, and his three comrades, I suppose, came up and tried to help him, and they bathed the back part of the hand, hoping the sinews and muscles would relax. But no. "His hand clave to the sword." Then they tried to pull open the fingers and to pull back the thumb; but no sooner were they pulled back than they closed again, "and his hand clave unto the sword." But after a while they were successful, and then they noticed that the curve in the palm of the hand corresponded exactly with the curve of the hilt. "His hand clave unto the sword."

You and I have seen it many a time. There are in the United States to-day many aged ministers of the gospel. They are too feeble now to preach. In the church records the word opposite their name is "emeritus," or the words are, "a minister without charge." They were a heroic race. They had small salaries and but few books, and they swam spring freshets to meet their appointments. But they did in their day a mighty work for God. They took off more of the heads of Philistine iniquity than you could count from noon to sundown. You put that old minister of the gospel now into a prayer-meeting, or occasional pulpit, or a sick-room where there is some one to be comforted, and it is the same old ring to his voice and the same old story of pardon and peace and Christ and heaven. His hand has so long clutched the sword in Christian conflict that he cannot drop it. "His hand clave unto the sword."

I had in my parish in Philadelphia a very aged man who in his early life had been the companion and advisor of the early presidents, Madison and Monroe. He had wielded vast influence, but I only knew him as a very aged man. The most remarkable thing about him was his ardor for Christ. When he could not stand up in the meetings without dropping, he would throw his arm around a pillar of the church, and though his mind was partially gone, his love for Christ was so great that all were in deep respect and profound admiration, and were moved when he spoke. I was called to see him die. I entered the room, and he said: "Mr. Talmage, I cannot speak to you now." He was in a very pleasant delirium, as he imagined he had an audience before him. He said: "I must tell these people to come to Christ and prepare for heaven." And then in this pleasant delirium, both arms lifted, this octogenarian preached Christ and told of the glories of the world to come. There, lying on his dying pillow, his dying hand clave to his sword.

Oh, if there ever was anyone who had a right to retire from the conflict it was old Joshua. Soldiers come back from battle have the names of the battle on their flags, showing where they distinguished themselves, and it is a very appropriate inscription. Look at the flag of old General Joshua. On it, Jericho, Gibeon, Hazar, City of Ai, and instead of the stars sprinkled on the flag, the sun and the moon which stood still. There he is a hundred and ten years old. He is lying flat on his back, but he is preaching. His dying words are a battle-charge against idolatry, and a rallying cry for the Lord of Hosts as he says: "Behold this day I go the way of all the earth, and God hath not failed to fulfill his promise concerning Israel." His dying hand clave unto the sword.

There is the headless body of Paul on the road to Ostea. His great brain and his great heart have been severed. The elmwood rods had strung him fearfully. When the corn ship broke up he swam ashore, coming up drencehd with brine. Every day since that day when the horse reared under him in the suburbs of Damascus, as the supernatural light fell, down to this day when he is 68 years of age and old and decrepit from the prison cell of the Mamertine, he has been outrageously treated, and he is waiting to die. How does he spend his last hours? Telling the world how badly he feels, and describing the rheumatism that he got in prison, the rheumatism afflicting his limbs, or the neuralgia piercing his temples, or the thirst that fevers his tongue? Oh, no. His last words are the battle shout for Christendom: "I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand; I have fought the good fight." And so his dying hand clave unto the sword.

It was in the front room on the second floor that my father lay a-dying. It was Saturday morning, 4 o'clock. Just three years before that day, my mother had left him for the skies, and he had been homesick to join her company. He was 83 years of age. Ministers of the gospel came in to comfort him, but he comforted them. How wonderfully the words sounded from his dying pillow: "I have been young and now I am old, yet have I never seen the righteous forsaken, or his seed begging bread." They bathed his brow, and they bathed his hands, and they bathed his feet, and they succeeded in straightening out the feet; but they did not succeed in bathing open the hand so it would stay open. They bathed the hand open, but it came shut. They bathed it open again, but it came shut. What was the matter with the thumb and the fingers of that old hand? Ah! it had so long clutched the sword of Christian conflict that "his hand clave unto the sword."

I preach this sermon as a tonic. I want you to hold the truth with ineradicable grip, and I want you to strike so hard for God that it will react, and while you take the sword, the sword will take you.

You noticed that the officers of the northern army a few years ago assembled at Denver, and you noticed that the officers of the southern army assembled at Lexington. Soldiers coming together are very apt to show their scars. Here is a soldier who pulls up his sleeve, and says, "There, I was wounded in that arm." and shows the scar. And another soldier pulls down his collar and says "There, I was wounded in the neck." And another soldier says, "I have had no use of that limb since the gunshot fracture." O, my friends, when the battle of life is over, and the resurrection has come, and our bodies rise from the dead, will we have on us any scars of bravery for God? Christ will be all covered with scars. Scars on the brow, scars on the hand, scars on the feet, scars all over the heart won in the battle of redemption. And all heaven will sob aloud with emotion as they look at those scars. Ignatious will be there, and he will point out the place where the tooth and the paw of the lion seized him in the Coliseum, and John Huss will be there, and he will show where the coal first scorched the foot on that day when his spirit took wing of flame from Constance. McMillan, and Campbell, and Freeman, American missionaries in India, will be there—the men who with their wives and children went down in the awful massacre at Cawnpore, and they will show where their bones were broken on that day when the Piedmontese soldiery pitched them over the rocks. And there will be those there who took care of the sick and who looked after the poor, and they will have evidences of earthly exhaustion. And Christ, with his scarred hand waving over the scarred multitude, will say: "You suffered with me on earth; now be glorified with me in heaven." And then the great organs of eternity will take up the chant, and St. John will play: "These are they who came out of great tribulation and had their robes washed and made white in the blood of the Lamb."

But what will your chagrin and mine be if it shall be told that day on the streets of heaven that on earth we shrank from all toil and sacrifice and hardship. Not so much as one ridge on the palm of the hand to show that just once in battle for God and the truth, we just once grasped the sword so firmly, and struck so hard that the sword and the hand stuck together, and the hand clave to the sword. Oh my Lord Jesus, rouse us to Thy service.

> Thy saints in all this glorious war
> Shall conquer though they die;
> They see the triumph from afar,
> And seize it with the eye.
>
> When that illustrious day shall rise,
> And all thy armies shine
> In robes of victory through the skies,
> The glory shall be thine.

AMUSEMENTS.

One of the Bravest.

One of the Bravest opened the week at the People's last night to a large audience. It is not new to Toledo people, and the lovers of sensational comedy drama will find much in it to admire.

Rose Coghlin.

Rose Coghlin, as Dorothy Baring, presented Dorothy's Dilemma at the Wheeler last night. The comedy was pleasing, and was a treat to patrons of the house who love to see good performances. Miss Coghlan was well supported and added many new friends to the long list of admirers in this city.

The City Directory.

The City Directory will be presented at the Wheeler to-night. It is reported to be brim-full of fun and will doubtless have a good reception.

LEFT IT TO THE CHURCH.

Mrs. Jones Follows in the Footsteps of Her Husband.

Norwalk, O., Oct. 13.—(Special)—The will of Maranda Jones, late of Norwalk, was probated yesterday. Deceased left her entire estate to be equally divided between the Missionary society of the M. E. church and the board of church extension of M. E. church, the portion willed to the board to be added to the "Jones loan fund" established by her husband, the late Rev. Joseph Jones.

Mrs. Jones' estate is valued at about $10,000.

BELL IN TIFFIN.

Tiffin, Oct. 13.—(Special)—Capt. G. W. Bell, an eloquent advocate of tariff reform from the state of Washington, addressed an audience which packed Noble's opera house to the doors last evening, and held the interest of all to the close. Capt. Bell is a pleasing and forcible speaker and is most certainly a vote-winner for the cause of the people.

MERCIER IN DANGER.

An Attempt Made to Assassinate Him.

Montreal, Oct. 13.—Yesterday afternoon the chief of police here received a telegram from Premier Mercier to send a detective and sergent to Tourevur, the premier's country residence. The reason for the call is unknown, but it is stated that an attempt was made upon the life of the premier.

"It is a fact" that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from impure state or low condition of the blood, overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

SHORT $60,000.

St. Louis, Oct. 13.—New developments in connection with the sudden disappearance if William Evans, secretary of the Morse Wool Scouring company, which occurred several days ago, place the amount of the shortage at $60,000.

Nobody can be troubled with constipation or piles if they take Simmons Liver Regulator.

GOSSIP FROM FINDLAY.

Burglars Find Their Way Into the Jail.

Printers on a Strike—The Oil War—Miscellaneous News of General Public Interest.

Findlay, O., Oct. 13.—(Special)—There is sheol to pay here over the way the county fair was conducted last week. Gambling in every conceivable shape—every skin game known to man—was openly conducted in all parts of the ground.

A number of the ministers of the city used gambling as the theme of their sermons on Sunday on this account, and everybody is condemning the agricultural board for selling out the privilege and allowing such work to be done. Just before the fair closed on Saturday evening a constable tried to arrest the entire crowd, but failed to catch one-tenth of them. The parties arrested all appeared before Squire Oxford yesterday and had their cases continued until next Monday, all giving bail for $100 each. It is said the agricultural board will be arrested and treated just the same as the sure-thing men.

An Oil War.

The Peerless Refining company of this city and the Standard Oil company are having a war on the price of oil to retail dealers. The former company have had a wagon on the streets for several days past and have been selling their product at 6 1-2 cents per gallon. The Standard put a wagon on the street yesterday and cut the price to 5 1-2 cents. The Peerless will undoubtedly meet the cut and go lower. The dealers and citizens generally are enjoying the fight, as it means cheap oil for them. The Standard usually gets the best of these fights.

A Serious Collision.

A man by the name of Thomas had a valuable horse so badly injured yesterday that it will have to be killed. He was coming out of a side street and was run into by the chemical engine of the city fire department. The heavy wheels of the engine run over one of the horse's feet and mashed it frightfully. Mr. Thomas was knocked down and dragged some distance, but escaped with a few painful bruises.

Good Speech.

Hon. H. Martin Williams of St. Louis delivered a masterly speech on the tariff to a very large audience of democrats at the Wigwam last night. It was one of the best meetings of the present campaign.

Small Printers' Strike.

The state organizer of the Typographical unions of Ohio will be here this week to settle a number of differences in the newspaper offices of the city. The local union asks a slight advance in the present scale and the different proprietors claim business at present will not justify them in paying the advance. The matter will probably be amicably adjusted when the proper officer arrives.

Boys Arrested.

Earl Campbell and Clifford Mitchell, two young boys, were arrested yesterday for stealing a team and buggy belonging to Mr. W. J. Campbell and driving it to North Baltimore. After the arrest was made the owner of the rig refused to prosecute and the boys were severely reprimanded and discharged.

Burglars Arrested.

Officers Karst and McCormick caught two men last night trying to break into the residence of D. B. Beardsley, over on Center street. They were trying to get in through the transom over the kitchen door. The men were given a hearing before Mayor Meehan yesterday afternoon. The men are strangers in the city and are tough looking characters.

CROUPY SOUNDS

At night, from baby's crib, are distracting to parents who are at a loss for a medicine equal to the emergency. Not so with those who have Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house. A dose of this medicine affords certain and speedy relief. To cure colds, coughs, sore throat, asthma, bronchitis, hoarseness, and the various disorders of the breathing apparatus, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has no equal. It soothes the inflamed tissue, promotes expectoration, and induces repose. Cap. U. Carley, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for thirty years and have always found it the best remedy for croup, to which complaint my children were subject."

It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. The useful and handsome Catalogue of American and Canadian Newspapers issued by the well-known newspaper advertisement agents, Messrs. Dauchy & Co., of 27 Park Place, New York, lies upon our table. The edition of 1891 is fully up to the high standard set by editions of former years, and is all that could be desired in respect to type, paper, press-work and binding, while in the convenient and compact arrangement of its statistics and information we do not think it could be improved upon. The feature of a broad space for memoranda following the name of each paper makes it especially valuable to all advertisers, as it can be used as a complete record of all contracts, or as an index to all contract record books, etc. This is the only newspaper directory published which is so arranged. No advertiser who has once used it could get along without it; when once put to the use for which it is intended it becomes indispensable.

POOR YORICK!
I Knew Him, Horatio!

But if you did not happen to be acquainted with the gentleman, do not be cast down. You perhaps know many things of a more practical nature which more than compensates. For instance, you know that you can have more happiness in a minute in a house of your own than in a week in a house you are paying rent for. You know that it is as much more economical as it is more comfortable, and that is saying a good deal. You know that in Toledo you can get a lot and build yourself a house in any part of the city and have the privilege of as much time as you wish in which to pay for it. You know that the new addition
